Mussolini Sends Peace Feelers To Paris And London

Report More Conciliatory Attitude Being Shown By Italian Premier

ITALIAN TROOPS ADVANCE, HOWEVER

Ethiopians Are Pessimistic On Outcome Of League Moves For Peace

(International News Service)

While Premier Benito Mussolini sent "feelers" out to Paris and London for a peace in the African war, his army today was revealed as launching a new push into Ethiopia from the south, capturing two important towns and bombing important Ethiopian military positions in Ogaden province.

In London these peace "feelers" were held to indicate Il Duce now is far more conciliatory in manner than he was a few weeks ago, apparently bowing to the threat of League of Nations economic sanctions.

Ethiopia Pessimistic.

Emperor Haile Selassie sent 10,000 more eager-to-fight warriors off to the front as his government became pessimistic about the chances of the league to end the war soon. Ethiopians are convinced the war will be a long one and, according to H. R. Knickerbocker, they are prepared to fight it out, suspecting Europe may be preparing to "sacrifice" Ethiopia "on the altar of European peace."

King George V prorogued the British parliament expressing "grave" personal concern over the war, and announcing immediate "further expansion" of the British royal air force.

Mussolini More Conciliatory.

London, Oct. 25.—Bowing to the threat of application of economic penalties by 50 or more nations of the world, Premier Benito Mussolini has weakened and now is showing a more conciliatory attitude, according to informed British circles today.

"Feelers" coming out of Rome in the past few days, routed through Paris, indicate Il Duce now has abandoned his previous demand for complete military control of Ethiopia, and now is willing to "talk turkey" on a far less drastic basis.

However, in view of the firm Brit-

PA NEWC OBSERVES

Two embryo human flies were noted in action on the old post office building at North and Mercer streets yesterday afternoon by Pa Newc. Somebody had thrown a cap up on a ledge about 20 feet from the ground on this building. Two lads, apparently about 14 years of age, climbed the wall of the building, by hanging onto the crevices between the stones, and one of them got clear to the ledge, rescued the cap and came back down to the ground in safety. The other one only got about half way up the side of the building, but he got back to the ground in safety.

Hallowe'en parties galore are on the program in this city these nights. Masqueraders enroute to parties are to be seen in all parts of the city in early evening. Next week is the big time for the mummers. With two public celebrations, those on the East Side and South Side scheduled, there will be plenty of opportunity for celebrating.

Claims Italy Seeks To Negotiate With Emperor

(BULLETIN)

LONDON, Oct. 25—Italy has asked Emperor Haile Selassie through an intermediary to consider the benefits of direct negotiations with Rome, the Addis Ababa correspondent of the London Daily Express reported today.

The correspondent said highest authorities of the legislation in the Ethiopian capital have so informed their home governments, adding the emperor was considering the proposal but has not yet replied.

Everywhere in Ethiopian court circles, said the dispatch, there was talk of possible peace.

(Editor's Note—The Daily Express dispatch conflicted with the statement of H. R. Knickerbocker, in Addis Ababa that Ethiopians are convinced the war will be a long one.)

President Proclaims Return Of Economic Recovery In Nation

By GEORGE DURNO
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25—With President Roosevelt back in active command again, administration forces today were beating the drums with renewed vigor to proclaim the return of economic recovery.

"Planned" recovery, the president termed it, and it was apparent that an upward surge from the depths of depression would be the Democrat's chief claim for re-election when they face the electorate next year.

The chief executive, fresh from his three-weeks fishing cruise that took him from the Pacific to the Atlantic, personally led the renewed chorus of confidence and hope.

League Seeks U. S. Statement On Question Of Backing Sanctions Move

By KINGSBURY SMITH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25—History was in the making today as Secretary of state Cordell Hull and his aides mapped America's reply to the League of Nations virtual request for an indication as to how far this government was prepared to go in backing league action against Italy.

At the direction of the president, the state department was confining itself to drawing up a recapitulation of what this government already had done to maintain its neutrality and induce Premier Mussolini to refrain from resorting to war. This recapitulation will form the basis of the American reply unless Mr. Roosevelt adds something to it himself after the department drafts it.

Whether he will make another startling declaration of neutrality remained speculative. Officials claimed it was too early to predict whether the reply would contain anything more than a recapitulation of moves already taken.

British Ship To Leave Alexandria

"Resolution" To Return To England But Will Be Replaced By Another Ship

(International News Service)

LONDON, Oct. 25.—The British battleship Resolution will leave Alexandria, Egypt, for England today, the admiralty officially announced, but will be replaced within a few days by a sister ship of the same tonnage, the battleship Ramillies.

The shift thus actually will not reduce one bit the great British naval strength amassed in the eastern Mediterranean during the current African crisis. If Britain is to make any conciliatory reply to Italy's withdrawal of 15,000 troops from the Egyptian-Libyan border, the move is yet to come.

The Resolution will sail for Portsmouth, where she will arrive November 3 or 4, after completing two years service in the Mediterranean.

The Ramillies, of the same class as the Resolution—of 29,150 tons and built in 1916—will leave England about November 1 to relieve the Resolution. The vessels thus will pass each other between England and Gibraltar.

ADDIS ABABA, Oct. 25.—Ten thousand shrieking warriors from the savage provinces of Kafa, Maji and Bako danced furiously and made obeisance at the feet of the emperor today, thus giving warning to Europe that the prophets who declare "the war is over" are reckoning without the Ethiopian army.

Under Ras Gueta Tsho, these 10,000 are en route to the front, just as half a million others have passed through Addis Ababa, thirsting for Italian blood.

They know nothing of the European negotiations for peace.

They only know that their land is invaded, and they have been promised some fine fighting.

'Love Bandits' Hunted In Erie

Special Officers Look For Two Men Molesting Girls Of City

"SHOOT TO KILL" ORDERS FOR POLICE

(International News Service)

ERIE, Pa., Oct. 25.—Search for two "love bandits," believed to be perverts, who have terrorized local women and girls in recent weeks, was intensified today as scores of special deputies and armed citizens augmented the police force for the greatest man hunt in the history of the city.

As the augmented forces were being organized, an attempt to attack another girl was reported to have been made—the sixth within a week.

The latest victim was Margaret Angelotti, 21, seized by two men last night as she walked home from work in a beer garden. As the men endeavored to drag her to their automobile, her screams frightened them off. There was no sign of the men when police arrived at the scene.

Meanwhile, city and police officials issued orders to their forces to "shoot to kill." Scores of special officers were sworn in for duty in the man hunt.

Concerted action was taken following the attack on a girl Wednes-

MANILA, P. I., Oct. 25.—Over 2,000 members of the constabulary were being concentrated here today in an effort to forestall any possible demonstration by disgruntled minorities during the commonwealth inaugural November 15.

General Basilio Valdes notified 25 Sakdal radical leaders they would be forbidden to hold meetings of any description until after the inaugural.

As the constabulary prepared to meet any possible emergency it was reported the bandit Acedillo was less than 100 miles from Manila and was holding five persons captive.

England Prepares For General Election

By CHARLES A. SMITH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, Oct. 25.—With a striking reference to his "grave" personal concern over the Italio-Ethiopian war, and announcement of immediate "further expansion of the royal air force," King George today prorogued his four-year-old paliament, plunging the house of commons into a three-weeks election campaign on the issues of rearmament and Britain's stand against Italy.

The poll, the first general election since an unparalleled financial and economic crisis swept the "national" coalition government into power in October, 1931, will be held on Nov. 14, and the new parliament will sit Nov. 26.

Foreign affairs were, however, only briefly touched upon in the 1500-word message of the king, read by Lord Chancellor Hailsham in the House of Lords before the jointly assembled Lords of Commons.

Opening with a reference to the happy memories occasioned by the silver jubilee ceremonies this spring, and the usual statement that "my relations with foreign powers continue to be friendly," the king said:

"The critical condition which has unhappily arisen between Italy and Abyssinia has aroused my gravest concern.

"From the moment a dispute occurred between the two countries as a result of a frontier incident in December, 1934 (the ualual clash) my government has exerted themselves to the utmost, both individually and in cooperation with the other members of the League of Nations to promote a peaceful settlement."

This was apparently in refutation of the statement of Premier Mus-

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—On the eve of the farm corn-hog referendum to determine whether that particular farm adjustment program shall continue another year, President Roosevelt today announced it was his intention to make the AAA permanent, a long range agency of the government.

"It never was the idea of the men who framed the act, of those in Congress who revised it, nor of Henry Wallace, nor of Chester Davis that the AAA should be either a mere emergency operation or a static agency," the President declared.

"It was their intention—as it is mine—to pass from the purely emergency phases necessitated by a grave national crisis to a long-time, more permanent plan for American agriculture."

The President revealed that in order to simplify administration the AAA was working toward the NEWARK, N. J., Oct. 25.—With Dutch Schultz, king of the metropolitan underworld, and three of his ablest lieutenants lying dead, and the wife of the arch racketeer held for questioning, police of the Greater New York area and federal G-men prepared today to cope with the greatest and bloodiest outburst of gang warfare in American history.

Thirty-five leading mobsters, not only in New York and Newark, but in Detroit, Cleveland and Chicago, are scheduled to be wiped out in the wake of murderous gun-fire that spelled doom for the Dutch Schultz gang, according to information gleaned by the police over the gangland grapevine.

Four Injured In Butler Accident

Collision Occurs On William Flinn Highway—Car Hits Bus

(International News Service)

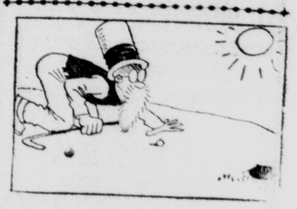

BUTLER, Pa., Oct. 25.—Three children and a man, victims of an automobile accident on the William Flinn highway, were in Butler Memorial hospital today with severe injuries.

The crash occurred when an automobile driven by John Mosary, 45, chauffeur for H. Boughton Phillips, prominent oil company executive, crashed into a bus near Bradenville.

Mosary was in a serious condition with a probable fractured skull and internal injuries. Two of Phillips' children, a 10-year-old son and eight-year-old daughter, who were riding in the machine with Mosary suffered severe lacerations and bruises, as did Donald Doerr, 11 riding in the car with them

Cosmos Demos, Pittsburgh, was the only one of three passengers in the bus who was hurt. The driver of the vehicle, Michael L. Begyar, Butler, escaped uninjured. Both machines were badly damaged.

You can't get along in a world of your own, you can't get along by your self, you can't simply hide in a hut in the woods, and park yourself up on a shelf. There's others who live in the same world you know, who have to be helped now and then, and the help must come from people like you, from high minded women and men. No matter how little you think you can give, you owe it and you ought to pay, for the problems your neighbor has, have to be solved, it's warmer, past sixty today.

You May Be Next One To Need Jameson Memorial Hospital

This is the thirteenth of a series of articles by the Board of Directors of Jameson Memorial hospital. The fourteenth article will appear in these columns tomorrow.

It is not pleasant to be reminded that the law of chance picks one out of 15 of us every year and tucks us away in a hospital bed because of sickness or injury. Who among us may be struck down we can not foretell. some of us are more unlucky than others. Some of us are hit with hospital sickness several times in a single year or several times in a few years. Chance is lawless and unfair—persecuting—in selection of its human cargo to fill our hospital beds.

In relating our experience as trustees for administration of Jameson Memorial hospital we have not been concerned so much with "who" pays our hospital bills. Our concern has been for "how many" pay hospital bills and "how much". Year after year a little more than half of us pay for the hospital care we receive. Nearly half of all of us are unable to pay anything. The law of chance operates on us all—one out of 15 of us is stricken with hospital sickness or injury each year—with no regard for our financial preparedness.

Jameson Memorial hospital stands up there on the hill with its great strong arms of high-standard modern hospital capability outstretched to give us its splendid protection when we need it. It knows that nearly every other one of us must be cared for free, but it makes no distinctions—it is dedicated to a ministry of community service protecting any of us from the chance misfortune of life-threatening sickness or injury. No ministry worthy of the name and worthy of our confidence can exist unless it gives more than it receives. Our comprehensive reports have disclosed that Jameson Memorial hospital today gives $1 of hospital care for every 81 cents it receives from all sources except philanthropy. The rapidly increasing use of our hospital by pay and free patients alike is building deficit to proportions of community-wide concern because it threatens us all with loss of a vital protection. We need to continue this protection—to sus-

GERMAN POLICY UNCHANGED

Long Silence On Situation Broken

Expression Of Reassurrance Is Given To Jittery World By Germany

MANY RUMORS ARE OFFICIALLY DENIED

By PIERRE J. HUSS
International News Service Staff Correspondent

BERLIN, Oct. 25.—Fears that Germany would "move in" on Austria; and rumors that the Reich would take advantage of France's internal woes and the international situation for an aggressive move on the western border, finally caused German officialdom today to break its long silence with a clean-cut expression of reassurance to a jittery world.

Tension arising out of the Italo-Ethiopian crisis and Anglo-French-Italian "misunderstandings" has led to no change, or contemplation of change, whatsoever in Germany's aims, the leading spokesman of the foreign office told International News Service.

Fears about Germany found their most vigorous expression in the statement of Winston Churchill in the British house of commons yesterday that German rearmament "drawfs all other" perils at this moment.

"International News Service is authorized on behalf of the foreign office to assert that the foreign policy of the German government remains unchanged," the spokesman said.

"Any contrary reports are without fundation."

The foreign office particularly struck at the story that Germany was considering wiping out the last vestiges of the Versailles Treaty by sending troops to the demilitarized Rhineland.

"The demilitarized zone will continue, as under existing agreement," said the spokesman.

YOU MAY BE NEXT ONE TO NEED JAMESON HOSPITAL

tain it in improving quality. Those of us who are least able to pay for its use can least afford its loss.

This is one of our big reasons for placing the base-line of philanthropic rescue of our hospital at one penny per day.

The question for each of us is: Can we risk the tragic misfortune of life-threatening sickness with Jameson Memorial hospital closed, cold and forbidding? Can any of us take that risk for a personal saving of a penny a day—seven cents a week—two packs of cigarettes per month? To be sure, if enough among us should choose to gamble pennies against the hazards of needed hospital care, it is in the realm of possibility that we can learn by actual experience just what it would mean to us to have our hospital closed. This is calamitous thought which we need not engage in if we have the will to understand the need and the open-mindedness to comprehend the remedial power of our pennies.

It is a mathematical fact that the next 2300 of our citizens to be cared for in Jameson Memorial hospital before another year rolls by will number about 1,000 free patients and about 1,300 pay-patients, and this total of 2300 patients will be picked by chance from among about 34,000 of our citizens who are now well. Moreover, about 19,000 (56 per cent) of this 34,000 group we know by long experience are able to pay for needed hospitalization; 1,300 of them are going to pay for their hospital care this coming year.

The conclusion is obvious: Nearly 18,000 out of every 34,000 of us are able to pay for hospital care we receive, yet the wheel of fortune says we shall need no hospital care this coming year.

These same 18,000 out of every 34,000 of us are able to contribute a penny a day toward maintenance of the vital protection our hospital affords. We are rescuing Jameson Memorial hospital because it is useful—because we all need it. By our method of rescue we are pioneering for rebirth of united community spirit, Our measure of success will determine the future base-line of philanthropic action. We have put the base-line of rescue at a penny a day.

Who can risk the loss of protection of needed modern hospital care for pennies?

Tuesday morning, October 29, at 9 o'clock, be ready for the sign-up. Don't gamble away our hospital care for pennies.

to life. Berman and Frank died early Thursday a few hours after the shooting, while Rosencrantz succeeded in hanging on until 3:25 o'clock this morning when he too gave up the unequal fight.

Two More Shot.

A few hours Schultz and his trio of aides felt the bite of bullets in Newark, Martin Krompier, his chief lieutenant in Manhattan, and Sam Gold, a race track man, were shot down in a Broadway barber shop.

At the Polyclinic hospital in New York, where the pair were rushed after the shooting, the latest word from attending physicians was that Krompier had only a "bare, fighting chance," but that Gold was out of danger.

The death of Schultz in the Newark City hospital was nothing more than had been expected. But the arrest of his lovely widow, Frances, came as a distinct surprise. She was to be arraigned today as a material witness in first precinct court. It was said the statements she made to police were contradictory.

Wife Is Held.

The detention of Mrs. "Dutch Schultz" Flegenheimer, the police said, solved the mystery angle of the case. An hour before the shooting, they said, the former showgirl visited the boss mobster at the restaurant where he was to meet his doom.

Moreover, they said, she had been living with Schultz at the Robert Treat hotel here during the entire time the former beer baron was awaiting removal proceedings on the government's latest income tax case against him. This morning Schultz's wife had not been informed of his death. Sobbing in a cell, Mrs. Flegenheimer protested she knew nothing of her husband's activities. Schultz's mother, Mrs. Anna Flegenheimer, was aware of his passing, however, and was reportedly in a state of collapse.

Name of Dictator Conjectured.

The identity of the mad dictator, whom police say aspires to be the "Napoleon of the underworld", is a matter of intense speculation. It is known that G-men and New York police have long suspected a New York night club chain owner of grandiose ambitions, but thus far they have uncovered no evidence to verify their suspicions.

One of the men slated to die at the dictator's orders, according to the grapevine, is a celebrated boss of the waterfront dock racket. The other is a popular backer of Manhattan night clubs. Both men, it is said, have too much power. If any dictator is to take over their rackets, they must be wiped out.

Schultz Mutters Names.

There were also indications that Lucky Charley Luciano, whose name Schultz is said to have muttered as he tossed deleriously on his deathbed, may be at least an aspirant to the new racket throne.

Those who were at Schultz's bedside as the end drew near declare he heaped curses upon the head of Luciano and all Italian gangsters. They also quoted him as muttering deleriously:

"Frankie, Frankie Ahearn! You see me and I'll see you. You wouldn't desert an old pal, would you? Bring the boys from the factory. Come heavy. There's work to be done.

"The department of justice says I'm all right. Who the hell is the treasury department?

"Oh, my wife, my darling wife!

"Mama, mama!

"What do you want to do that to me for; you can't do that to me."

Ahearn is a former henchman of Schultz's who disappeared two years ago under indictment.

Schultz's wife, Mrs. Frances Flegenheimer, was held in $10,000 bail as a material witness when arraigned before Acting Judge Thomas Guthrie in first criminal court today.

As had been suspected, she was the woman in the brown dress who made a quick call on Schultz in the death tavern shortly before the shooting started.

The three employes of the tavern were ordered held in bail of $1,000 apiece as material witnesses.

Judge Guthrie also issued three warrants against unidentified men designated as Richard Roe, John Doe and Joseph Roe.

word either official or unofficial regarding the negotiations proceeding among England, France and Italy.

As one prominent official expressed it, the European playwrights are trying to write "Hamlet" leaving Hamlet out.

Furthermore, it is positively stated the emperor could not consider Premier Mussolini's reported new proposals even as a basis for discussion, because they all involve Italy's retention of Ethiopian territory.

Ras Gueta Tsho, whose rank means "duke", whose army is his personal property, and whose fealty to his emperor is his personal affair, today knelt and kissed the emperor's feet.

The emperor lifted him and kissed him on both cheeks. It was an imperial farewell for a warrior chieftain going to fight for his country, and not a salutation to a man expected to go to the front, view the enemy, and then upon orders from Europe turn around and go back home.

The view here is that the League of Nations or the great powers can only change the character of the war, but cannot stop it.

League Can't Stop War

If France and England agree to support Italy's claim to keep part of Ethiopian territory in order to avoid a European war the emperor would be forced to accede.

But his accession would mean his overthrow and his successors would carry on a guerilla combat which would compel Italy to push further into the country and thus arrive at the same result although the league refused to allow Italy any part of Ethiopia.

The feeling is bitter here that the powers which unanimously condemned Italy as an aggressor should now consider rewarding Italy by allowing her to keep any part of the spoils of her aggression.

Each item of news from Europe that Italy and England are smoothing their differences increases suspicion here that Ethiopia is going to be sacrificed on the altar of European peace.

Forces Concentrate

London, Oct. 25.—Large forces of Abyssinians are concentrating in the mountain passes of the southeast for a strong stand against the troops of General Rodolfo Graziani, dispatches from Addis Ababa today agreed.

Mechanized Italian units are trying to circle around the Abyssinian lines and cut them off from the rear, Reuters said.

The Italians, according to this dispatch, are advancing in a direction northwest of historic Ualual, towards the important town of Sasabaneh, about 140 miles southeast of Harar.

The right Italian flank will move close to the border of British Somaliland, but will be careful to avoid entering British territory and risk internment.

HULL PREPARES TO MAKE REPLY TO LEAGUE NOTE

tive quarters had indicated the reply would be confined merely to a recapitulation.

However, the general impression continued to prevail this government would parry the league's efforts to place it on the spot concerning future support for sanctions

Indications were no promises would be made to the league regarding the extent to which this government might be prepared to back league sanctions against Italy under any hypothetical circumstances.

It was considered possible that the president might add a personal touch to the reply emphasizing America's desire to keep out of war and its interest, at the same time, in the preservation of world peace.

He might, it was hinted, even go so far as make another appeal for peace in the interests of world economic recovery.

Meanwhile, the state department announced formal acceptance of Great Britain's invitation to attend a naval conference in London early in December.

PRESIDENT PROCLAIMS RETURN OF ECONOMIC RECOVERY IN NATION

slack," he told the people with great confidence in announcing this "good news."

This was but the latest of a series of studied pronouncements by the president designed, as he told friends recently, to "quiet jittery nerves."

First came his statement from Hyde Park early in September that the peak of the depression definitely has passed.

Then followed his promise of a "breathing spell" for business.

Next was the revised budget survey for the current fiscal year, which contained an assurance there would be no further increases in taxation to meet emergency needs --provided congress kept within bounds next January and did not pass uncontemplated items as the soldier's bonus, etc.

Building Up Picture

While President Roosevelt was cruising, his aides were building up the picture of returned business activity with facts, figures and estimates.

Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins addressed the recent American federation of labor convention in Atlantic City and assured the union men that the corner toward recovery had been turned because the heavy industries—always first to feel a depression and last to emerge —were picking quite definitely.

Last night, the president repeated the statement there made by Miss Perkins. Employment in the so-called durable goods industry, he said, is now 62 percent higher than it was in the spring of 1933.

But for his latest "good news" Mr. Roosevelt offered this:

"During the month of September 350,000 men and women were returned to private employment in the reporting industries of the nation, and the weekly pay envelopes of these industries was $12,000,000 greater than their weekly pay envelopes in the previous month of August.

"This means that the workers in these reporting industries had $12,000,000 more each week to spend for the necessities of life.

"Furthermore, these latest and continued gains mean that nearly 5,000,000 men and women have found employment in the reporting private industries since the low point of depression in March, 1923, and during this same period there has been an increase of over $104,000,000 per week in the payrolls of these industries."

JOINT MEETING OF LEGISLATIVE GROUPS

A most interesting and enthusiastic joint meeting of the Legislative committees of the Women's club, and the New Castle Section, National Council of Jewish Women, was held at the home of the chairman, Mrs. L. Kohn, Moody avenue, Thursday afternoon, to discuss the coming election November 5 and the issues involved.

The pro and con of the one and one half million dollar proposed bond issue for a municipally owned electrical distribution plant in New Castle, was discussed by George T. Weingartner, representing the Taxpayers League. Howard Kirk, Jr., represented the Electrical Consumer's League.

Mrs. Ira Ramsey read a paper on Sunday Movie Vote, another important issue on which there will be a referendum vote at the coming election at the coming election. After much discussion by those present on both sides of the question, the committees went on record as being opposed to the question of Sunday movies after 2 p. m.

The committees also met on this occasion to do honor to Mrs. Ira Ramsey former vice chairman, who is leaving New Castle, to make her home in Meadville. Feeling that Mrs. Ramsey has been an invaluable asset to the work of this committee, a lovely token of remembrance was presented her. Graciously, Mrs. Ramsey responded in accepting the gift.

Later, the women adjourned to the dining room for a social half hour. Tea was poured by Mrs. Ira Ramsey and Mrs. W. W. Wilkinson, former and present vice chairmen of the Legislative committee. Table decorations were in blue and yellow, with yellow tapers in pretty holders, and a center piece of chrysanthemums, being most attractive.

The next meeting will take place November 14 at the home of Mrs. R. S. Tannehill, Englewood avenue. At this time, three short papers on the subject, "Know Your Federation," will be presented, the topic dealing with county, state and national phases.

Mrs. A. B. Street will also summarize legislative bills passed by the state during the past year.

NEW FRONTIERS

THE man who is mournful because the age of exploration and high adventure is over ought to go out into the Pacific somewhere and watch those giant flying boats with which the Pan-American people are preparing to set up a regular, passenger-carrying ocean air service.

Those huge airplanes may be the last word in 20th century up-to-dateness, but they are doing the same sort of thing that the creaking wooden ships of Captain Cook did—charting new trade routes and bringing to the world's greatest ocean something new in the way of transportation.

If there was romance and adventure to the trips of Captain Cook, the same is true of these airplanes.

They are the products of an age which is almost infinitely more sophisticated and scientific than was the age of the great navigators. The world in which they operate simply is not the same world as that which the old-time explorers knew. Its map contains few blank spaces, its distances are insignificant compared with the old distances, and its South Sea islands boast chambers of commerce, modern hotels and guides for tourists.

But what is being done now is the sort of thing that the old timers could understand and enjoy. It is exploration in its truest sense—a plunging forward boldly into something new and untried, with success or failure, life or death, resting in the last analysis on the bravery and cool competence of the navigator.

The voyages of the wooden ships of a century and a half ago put the islands and the kingdoms of the far east into touch with restless, acquisitive Europe, and started a ferment working in human affairs that has not yet ended. Spanning the Pacific with a modern airline will do the same sort of thing in a different way.

It will reduce the distance from Asia to America to something like a sixth of its present extent. China and all the Orient will be as close to New York as Boston was in colonial days. The bonds that tie distant nations and races into a community of mutual inter-dependence will be drawn measurably tighter.

It is easy to make the mistake of thinking that we live in a world in which all the great deeds of exploration and adventure are finished. These great airplanes, soaring over the limitless wastes of the Pacific, are enough to prove that that isn't so. There is as much romantic achievement in the world now as there ever was—if we just know how to recognize it.

HELENA REBUILDS

It will take more than an earthquake—or several hundred earthquakes—to dismay Helena. Before the minor quakes that follow major upheavals had ceased, the Montana capital was busy rebuilding. Debris is being cleared away and bricklayers and carpenters are reconstructing buildings damaged by the shocks.

Montana never has been regarded as earthquake territory. Until 1925 quakes were unknown in the Treasure State. But, according to experts who have made a study of these phenomena, no part of the United States is immune. Will the great buildings be toppled into the streets of New York City some day by subterranean upheavals? Those who have made a study of earthquakes say it is possible.

UNJUST TAX-FREE HOUSING PROJECTS

Secretary Ickes's low-cost housing program and Dr. Tugwell's suburban resettlement schemes are running into snags, as well they should. Ickes is passing out 45 per cent of costs of building free of charge and loaning 55 per cent to organizations at the rate of 3 per cent. Tugwell is trying to construct five community settlements in as many towns, some of which are bitterly opposed to the invasion.

It is quite easy to see why there is opposition. When the government acquires property it is subject to no local taxable requirements. Take, for instance, the case of Atlanta, Ga. Atlanta in effect says to the government: "You are coming in here and erecting buildings and you expect the city to tax its citizens for furnishing you police and fire protection and all other municipal services, including educational facilities, while your tenants are exempt from contributing a single penny to the general fund from real estate valuations."

In such circumstances there exists rank discrimination against home owners who have to scrimp and save to pay their taxes. A privileged class paying low rents to the government is beyond local jurisdiction as concerns taxation. Before sailing with the president on his fishing expedition PWA Administrator Ickes laid this problem before Comptroller General McCarl. He realized that unless a solution could be found serious difficulties might be encountered, since numerous would-be tenants would hesitate to occupy houses unless police and fire protection, at least, could be assured.

Atlanta is by no means the only city that has declined to take non-tax-paying residents under its wing. "Many cities have informed us," Mr. Ickes reported to Mr. Carl, "that in view of the fact that they will not receive any taxes from these projects, they will not be able to render such services." And Mr. Ickes made a proposition that the government pay Atlanta $9600 annually to meet service charges. But Comptroller McCarl declines to be led into dubious constitutional paths. Such payment would be a form of taxation, after all—round-about taxation by a municipality of federal government property, and "the rule is well established that the federal government and its activities may not be taxed."

The tax-free housing projects are an arrant injustice to the home-owning taxpayers who have to support them.

No War Probably.
Landon, Norris, Borah.
Will War Ever End?
Would Not Treat Hitler.
By ARTHUR BRISBANE

IT LOOKS like peace in Europe. England has heard from Laval that France has no notion whatever of getting into a war over Ethiopia. She may need her strength for Germany and is saving it.

England would not willingly have a war all to herself, or let anybody drop a war into her lap.

Haile Selassie probably will be told how much he may keep. Some good excuse will be invented. Mussolini will have what is called "peace with honor," which means some new piece of territory.

HAILE SELASSIE, the intelligent Arabic ruler of savage African tribes, seems to have been let into the secret, and says pleasant things about Mussolini.

"He did NOT use poison gas against us. He has NOT used dum-dum bullets," says the Ethiopian emperor. He would hardly say that if he wanted his people to go on fighting.

GOV. LANDON, of Kansas, possessing support that may make him the Republican nominee for President, tells Merryle Stanley Rukeyser, of Universal Service, the way to escape depression is to cut down government cost through elimination of economic waste and raising the level of efficiency.

Gov. Landon, wise person, does not suggest "mere cutting down," but rather "getting more out of the tax dollar by elimination of dead wood and waste."

SENATOR NORRIS, of Nebraska, intimates that he will not run for re-election, which is bad news. It is a good thing to have in the senate a man who says what he thinks, bluntly and sincerely, even though he may be wrong occasionally.

Age is no excuse. Let Senator Norris consider Gladstone, Von Moltke, Pope Leo and Titian, still working when the plague killed him, at ninety.

SENATOR BORAH tells a friend: This country is largely Republican, Mr. Roosevelt could not have been elected without Republican votes. He cannot be re-elected without Republican votes."

If Republicans intend to DO something, they should consider seriously the work of selecting a candidate, uniting on somebody that can get back the Republican votes and bring over some Democrats.

JUST SUPPOSE—

WOULDN'T it be nice if life always ran along like a song (I mean a sweet, old-fashioned song)?

Wouldn't it be wonderful if all your day dreams came true?

Wouldn't it be grand if all you had to do was wish for something and it was yours?

Wouldn't life be easy if you always held good cards, if you won every game you played, if every effort was crowned with success?

Wouldn't you be happy if you never had a pain, never a difficulty, never a worry, never a doubt, never a regret, never a moment's uncertainty?

If you never quarreled—
If you never said the wrong thing—
If you never messed up your life—
If you never agonized over trifles—
If your feelings were never hurt—
If you never disappointed anybody and nobody ever disappointed you—
Wouldn't life be wonderful?

No, it would NOT.

It would be dull, dreary, monotonous, deadly, boring, stupid, disappointing, tragic, and a FLOP—if life were as easy as that.

You'd never know yourself. You'd never know life. Never knowing sadness, you'd never know joy. Never suffering defeat, you'd never win any victories. Living so easily, you'd live a HARD life.

That kind of life wouldn't be honey on your bread, it would be ANT POISON. . . . And you know it!

LACONICS

A doctor noted for his laconic speech met his equal in a woman of few words. She came to him with a hand badly inflamed.

"Burns?" asked the doctor.
"Bruise," the lady replied.
"Poultice," directed the doctor.

The next day the patient returned and the conversation was resumed.

"Better?" inquired the doctor.
"Worse."
"More poultice."
The following day:
"Better?"
"Well. Bill?"
"Nothing," said the doctor, "most sensible woman I ever met!"

ROCKEFELLER'S ECONOMIES

It is an axiom that one of the surest ways to please a man is to compliment him for some excellence which is not obvious.

For example, it would probably bore Mr. Rockefeller if a new acquaintance told him that he envied his ability to make and keep money. But if a guest in Mr. Rockefeller's house commended the host for switching off the electric lights as he stepped from one room to another, the elderly oil king would probably beam, because he is said to take pride in little household economies. Perhaps he is a trifle doubtful about the wisdom of them, and therefore likes to be assured that others approve of his thrift.

"Swinging left," as applied to politics, means that a party or government is following new or perhaps what might be considered radical doctrines instead of long established policies. Good Taste

By FRANCINE MARKEL

By Francine Markel

Have you ever heard the story of the woman who divorced her husband because he knew her mind so well that he even finished her sentences for her?

Perhaps she was one of those conversational offenders who end their unfinished pronounciamentos with such trite, meaningless phrases as: "Or something" or "You know what I mean."

One of this type will start off very bravely on a certain topic and go along smoothly for a while, when presto, the inevitable "or something" pops out as a grand climax! Two little words that brand their users as poor conversationalists with limited powers of self-expression! Two little words that may have their own metier, but which inflict torture when suffixed to almost every sentence!

For your words as well as your actions let your motto be: "Never start anything you can't finish" and send in your resignation to the "Or Something Club," which is already overflowing with too many members.

The World At A Glance

Republicans Are Leary.
Expenditures Are Scanned.
Voters Will Exact Promises.

Central Press
New York Bureau
235 East 45th St.
By LESLIE EICHEL
Central Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—Some observers believe that it is not the Roosevelt administration that has got itself into a hole on government spending and the failure of the works progress administration. These observers believe that it is the Republicans who are in the hole.

The reasoning is this:

Voters collectively are opposed to large public expenditures. But when the administration cuts them off individually, as it must, for the funds soon will give out, every community affected, every person affected will complain. A year hence, the question again will be:

"What are you going to do for us?"

And Republicans, campaigning, may promise to go farther than Mr. Roosevelt.

As for the job program, the president may say:

"Private industry failed to take up the slack as the government left off."

And what will the Republicans promise? Greater leeway, greater confidence for business?

On the contrary—so some observers believe—Republican spellbinders, when trying to garner the votes of a community, will promise greater efforts on the part of the government.

A year hence, people will not be talking about government expenditures so much as what additional can be done to provide jobs, to maintain prices, to keep money flowing.

SITUATION NOW

Economists trying to assess the present situation say it is something like this:

President Roosevelt started out on a New Deal which was intended to redistribute earning power.

He became sidetracked and abandoned what his original advisers termed fundamental reforms for inflationary measures—such as monetary changes, huge spending, restriction of output. This changed the New Deal from its original intent to virtual state capitalism, in many respects resembling measures taken in Italy and Germany.

But the lot of millions of persons remains materially unchanged.

Further spending probably will be money thrown away.

The president is caught swimming in a whirlpool.

On one side, according to these economists, is collectivization and socialism. On the other side is rigid fascistic, monopolistic control. The president desires neither. He believes sincerely there is an island down the stream, on which he can climb to safety. The economists are not so sure.

RIGID REGIMEN

Economists say that if we desire to preserve the capitalistic status we have to tuck in our belts. They add:

To maintain the capitalistic society (without resorting to financial processes that destroy capitalism), there can be no paying of bounties to farmers, in order to maintain a price structure. There can be no vast public works to supply jobs or to absorb a reservoir of labor so that wages will be maintained.

In brief—the economists in question say—prices must be permitted to sink to a normal level and workers must accommodate themselves to a lower standard until trade of its own accord creates a demand that will lift prices.

And trade would have to be on an international, rather than a nationalistic basis.

The government budget could be balanced, if the people would accept those conditions in full, the economists quoted believe.

But will the Republicans agree to such a rigid regimen?

Why, even now, a year prior to the presidential election, Republicans are flirting with bonus groups, pension groups, inflationary groups, farm bounty groups. And whoever is nominated on the Republican ticket will do everything in his power to win such groups—in last minute expediency, in order to gain office.

President Roosevelt, adept as he is on being on both sides of the fence, has been forced into a corner by bonus adherents, and by silverites and by various vested privilege interests.

WHAT THEN?

What, then, is likely to be the outcome?

This writer has asked many persons that.

There is one opinion in financial New York that seems logical:

The outcome, for the present, is likely to be an expansion of inflationary processes, giving a semblance of "prosperity." And that will tide over the election.

The jobless will remain at a high figure, government expenditures will be pared somewhat—only because the vast supply of cheap credit will cause private expansion (and the increase of private debt)—and both political parties are likely to promise more of the same thing.

Financial New York, of course, will not support Mr. Roosevelt. It does not know "which way he will turn." And it fears he may wind up with actual collectivism.

On the other hand, liberals fear he will wind up with state capitalism and fascism. They have, of course, the same fear of a Republican.

As in other countries, liberals seem to have no place to go.

THE FEUD OF THE GRANDMOTHERS

Said I to the doctor: "You settle the row!
You started the trouble; you finish it now.
We are only the parents, endeavoring each day
For the good of the baby to do as you say;
But this war of the grandmothers isn't much fun,
So you go and tell them what has to be done.

"You go and answer them (vainly I've tried),
When they say we were rocked every time that we cried.
You say that we mustn't. Well, you tell them why
Such rocking is harmful, since we didn't die!
You go and convince them your methods so new
Are better by far than what they used to do.

"I am only the father. What ever you say
Is best for the baby I want to obey.
Four hours between feedings! The gradmas reply;
'We ate when we hungered and we didn't die!'
They call you a faddist and names much more shocking.
Well, you tell the grandmas the evils of rocking.

"Now it's hard to obey you and still not be rude,
So you've got to settle this grandmother's feud.
Since you made the rules on which we must insist,
You tell thew why babies should never be kissed.
We were fondled and petted and pampered, they cry.
Well, you go and tell them why we didn't die."

TODAY Is The Lay

By CLARK KINNAIRD — Copyright 1935 — Central Press

FRIDAY, OCT. 25

Notable Nativities—Richard Evelyn Byrd, b. 1888, traveler...Primo Carnera, b. 1907, professional giant. ...Rev. Charles E. Coughlin, b. 1891, radio orator...Henry Norris Russell, b. 1877, U. S. astronomer.

Today's Yesterdays—Oct. 25, 1694—Biggest drinking-bout in history was staged by officers of Britain's Mediterranean fleet.

Admiral Edward Russell, Earl of Oxford, started it. To prepare a punch with which his officers could en masse toast their king, he had the public fountain in Alicant drained and cleaned. Into it were poured 4 hogsheads of brandy, 1 pipe of malaga wine, 20 gallons of lime juice, 2,500 lemons, 1,300 pounds of sugar, 5 pounds of grated nutmeg, eight hogsheads of water. A boy rowed around in a small boat, built expressly for the purpose, filling cups and assisting guests who fell in.

Oct. 25, 1854—"The Charge of the Light Brigade" was made.

It lasted less than five minutes!

It happened, of course, in the battle of Balaklava (a village in the Crimea), in the war of the Turks, British and French against the Russians.

No order for a charge was given by the general in command; it was made as a result of a misunderstanding, and accomplished nothing.

Not 600, as the poem says, but 673 were sent into the jaws of death. Only 271 came out.

15 Years Ago Today—Terence MacSwiney, Lord Mayor of Cork, died in Brixton prison, England, after a hunger strike of 74 days.

Writing Wrongs—You're in error if you suppose—

That thumbs down is the sign of disapproval.

It isn't. Popular phrases in the course of time often acquire distorted or opposite meanings, and this is one of the cases. Juvenal, iii.36 (J. E. B. Mayer translation) says:

"Those who wished the death of the conquered gladiator turned their thumbs toward their breasts, as a signal to his opponents to stab him; those who wished him to be spared, turned their swords downward, as a signal for dropping the sword."

And you're wrong if you say—

That "he had a meteoric rise".

Everybody ought to know that meteors never rise, unless Prof. Einstein has been busy again. Also,

That your face tells what you are.

If only it did! But faces are no guide to a person's nature, it has been found by exhaustive studies.

Bible Thought For Today

Tramp—You are right madam. You gave it to three of us. I am the sole survivor.

HALLOWE'EN PARTY AT THIRD CHURCH

Amid a picturesque Hallowe'en setting, a large crowd of merrymakers gathered Thursday evening in the Third U. P. church for a masquerade party.

The affair was sponsored by the W. W. M. G. class, of which Mrs. Robert Vorous is teacher, and members of the class acting as hostesses were in all sorts of costumes. Nearly 300 people were there, variously garbed in this and that and the other thing, to add fun to the occasion, for which great credit for its success is reflected upon the general committee, Mrs. P. D. Gibson chairman; Misses Ella Bailey, Margaret Sankey and Elma Badger, ably assisted by various sub-committees.

As the first feature a costume parade was in order, with the judges, who were Cecil Potter, Bernard Hook, Mrs. Clare Lutz and Mrs. Edna Lutz, having a hard time deciding the winners. However, this was finally accomplished, the distinction going to adults D. Floyd Book for the best single outfit, Mrs. Gilbert Colnot and Mrs. William Schoenfeld, who were a team, and to Miss Nettie Irene Mann; children, Betty Lutz, Ruth Elaine Lutz, Eleanor Caldwell, Marjorie Book, Jack McKibben.

On the stage, which was arranged as a living room and adorned with palms and ferns, a style show was presented by several models, including Mrs. John Kenehan, Mrs. Earl McKnight, Thelma Rose and Charlene Bates.

The third part of the entertainment was a playlet put on by members of the dramatic class of the high school, under the direction of Miss Clara Hartsuff. It was entitled "Three's a Crowd", with this cast: Ellen, Dorothy Fletcher; Madeline, Merilynne Blank; Elmer, George Basher; Eddie Johnson, Jr., James Cardella; Eddie Johnson, Sr., Crawford Lyon. The show was humorous and cleverly done.

Orchestra music was offered by nine members of the senior high school group, who were Arvo Ahao, Vance Dufford, Vincent Lebinosky, Rodger Pecano, Bob Chamberlain, Russ Book, Stella Houg, Dot Fisher and Bill McKnight. They presented several selections, among which were "Tannhauser Marche", Robert's arrangement of "Poet and Peasant" and "Three Dances from Henry the Eighth", by Edward German.

After this splendid program the guests rambled around enjoying the various attractions at different gaily decorated booths, having more fun with grab bags, a penny arcade, futures revealed by Madame Sanham (Margaret Sankey) and relishing hot dogs and other tasty refreshments.

Amerita Club Members.

Mrs. Rudolph Ehizi and Angeline Iabucci were prize winners in the card contest held Thursday evening in the home of Mrs. Norman Cuscino on East Reynolds street, the players composing the Amerita club associates.

After an informal social period, the hostess served appetizing refreshments, with places marking at the tables for all members and one guest, Mrs. Nick Ambrose.

In two weeks, Mrs. Anthony Valiani of East Long avenue will receive the club at her home.

P. W. Club.

P. W. club members met with Mrs. E. Campbell of New Castle R. D. 5 Wednesday evening for their regular social time. Cards were in play until a late hour, prizes going to Mrs. E. Houk, Mrs. E. McConnell and Mrs. H. McFall. Lunch was served by the hostesses as the concluding feature.

In two weeks, the club will meet in the home of Mrs. Frank Cortwrig, Walnut street.

FAREWELL SHOWER FOR LES BRIDGEURS MEMBER

Les Bridgeurs club members, honored one of their associates Thursday evening, Mrs. Russell Hannon, when they met in the home of Mrs. John Darby, Hillcrest avenue, for a Hallowe'en party. A kitchen shower, in the form of a farewell, was tendered Mrs. Hannon, who with her family, will leave New Castle on November 1, for Oil City, where they will make their future home.

Cards occupied the leisure hours, with awards being made to Mrs. Verne Carr, Mrs. Charles Whalen and Gertrude Wolfe when play was concluded. The hostess served lunch at a suitable hour, Hallowe'en suggestions being cleverly used in the table and menu appointments. She was assisted by Miss Wolfe.

In two weeks, Dolores Gould of Elizabeth street, will receive the club at her home.

J. C. KENNEDY HOME SCENE OF SURPRISE

The J. C. Kennedy residence on Richelieu avenue, was the scene of an enjoyable party, when Mrs. Kennedy with her two daughters, the Misses Dorothy and Margaret, entertained jointly at a surprise gathering in honor of their son and brother, George Kennedy, the occasion marking his 19th birthday anniversary, Thursday evening, October 24th.

Upon the arrival of the guests, a program of games, dancing and music was in progress, filling in the early hours. At a suitable time, the guest of honor was presented with a handsome gift, in behalf of those surrounding him, as a mementoe of the occasion.

The hostesses served a tasty lunch, Hallowe'en appointments being combined with the birthday motifs, in the decorations used.

At Ritchie Home.

In the South Mill street home of Mrs. David Ritchie on Thursday evening, Section F, Y. L. B. of the Third U. P. church had the regular meeting.

After the devotional period, the balance of the evening's program was in charge of the leader, Mrs. Nettie Foringer, with a social hour featured by sewing for the bazaar and the opening of the "weather" boxes. Refreshments were served by the hostess.

For the next regular meeting, November 7, the group will meet in the home of Mrs. Nellie Tribby, Warren avenue, following services at the church.

UNIQUE "WITCHES DEN" PARTY FOR KIDDIES

Miss Mary Agnes Nelson entertained a gathering of 21 youngsters at a clever party Thursday evening, the event being held in their garage, which was transformed into a weird "witches den" with all the decorations necessary in making such a Hallowe'en setting so realistic, being used in an original way.

The hours from 7 until 9 were spent pleasurably with bingo and other games, for which pries were awarded the various winners. Favors and novelty noise makers were passed around among the guests, as mementos of the evening's festivities. An attractive lunch was served the youngsters by the hostess' mother, Mrs. William Nelson, assisted by Miss Eva James, as the concluding feature.

Medicated Cough Drop Lasts Longer in the Throat Than Old-Style Cough Syrups.

Millions of mothers and their children are delighted to find a really medicated cough drop—time-tested, throat-soothing ingredients of Vicks VAPORUB in convenient candy form.

Allowed to dissolve naturally in the mouth, a Vicks Cough Drop applies direct medication to irritated membranes of the throat for from 12 to 15 minutes—at a cost of less than half a cent.

Less expensive, more convenient, and longer-lasting in effect, no wonder Vicks Medicated Cough Drop has become the modern successor to old-fashioned cough syrups.

Daughters Of Lydia.

Daughters of Lydia of the First Presbyterian church will have the October meeting Saturday afternoon, October 26, at 3 o'clock in the home of Mrs. Harry L. Gormley, 236 Fairfield avenue.

Assisting hostesses will be Mrs. Edwin Crawford, Mrs. Albert Harbison, Mrs. S. L. McCracken and Mrs. Edwin Moore.

MAKES STATEMENT ON RECENT ITEM

Mrs. Flora Williams of Shadyside, who recently appeared before the New Castle school board and complained of alleged treatment her children received in school, visited The News office yesterday, and said that in the report of her complaint a mis-statement was made. She claimed that what she said before the school board was that her "children were afraid to make a move in school," instead of that her "children were afraid to go to school," as was reported in the item.

REPORT BREMERTON MASS MURDER CASE SOLVED

Woman Admits Crime Knowledge

Authorities Say Slaying Of Six Persons In Washington In 1934 Solved

KILLINGS OCCUR AFTER ROBBERY

(International News Service)

SEATTLE, Wash., Oct. 25.—Solution of the Bremerton mass murder case, one of most puzzling crimes in Pacific northwest history, was announced today by authorities, despite continued denials by a suspect after ten hours grilling.

The case broke wide open last night when Mrs. Peggy Peterson Paulos waitress, signed a sensational confession picturing herself as an unwilling accomplice to the heinous slaying of six persons March 28, 1934, three days before the bodies were found.

Motive leading to slaying was robbery, the girl said.

She trussed, taped and lined up the victims while male companions covered them with a revolver, according to her confession, police declared.

As her robber companion went berserk, starting to kill with a butcher knife, she fled. According to her statement, he fired one shot at her.

Leo Hall, 33, former drydock employee and ex-boxer, was held for questioning. Authorities, however, did not say he was the suspect named by Mrs. Paulos. Hall was arrested at Portland Wednesday night.

Tells Her Story

Detectives, acting on secret information, had questioned Mrs. Paulos two weeks ago regarding the mass murders. She refused then to discuss the case but last Saturday told her story to Attorney Ralph Horr, who said reason for the revelation was revenge against the suspect for having "turned in" her husband, Larry Paulos, on burglary charges.

According to Deputy Sheriff O. K. Bodie, Larry Paulos believed his wife had some connection with the Bremerton slayings because she frequently talked of it in her sleep.

Authorities were convinced the woman's story is true.

She related the following:

She and the suspect walked from Bremerton ferry to Erlands Point, scene of the massacre. The suspect was armed with a gun and blackjack fashioned from a garden hose. They surprised four persons playing cards in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Flieder, two of the victims.

She bound the victims with adhesive tape, strips of clothing, towels and shoe laces. Two other men at the house party came in later and also were held up.

She was certain the massacre started with the slaying of Mrs. Flieder in her bedroom. A few minutes later she witnessed the slaying of Fred Bolcolm with a butcher knife in the same bedroom.

The other victims were Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Chenevert, Magnus Jordan and Flieder.

Two In Auto Crash Near Wilmington

(Special To The News)

GROVE CITY, Oct. 25.—Dr. C. E. Harry, president of the boro council, and Herman F. Smith, boro clerk, are congratulating themselves on a narrow escape from serious injury in a head-on auto collision near New Wilmington, while on a business trip to Youngstown. Both escaped with cuts about the face, but Dr. Harry's car was badly damaged, as was the other machine in the collision.

Smith, the 250-pound boro clerk, was thrown through the windshield "as far as I would go," he reports. Doctor Harry suffered bruises about the chest and a cut above the eye from contact with the steering wheel.

MY NEW YORK

By JAS. ASWELL

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—I am no great sports fan—you can't be and write some 350,000 words a year—but I am interested in football. The game and the crowd—particularly the crowd—in my eyes, has drama and panoply and the fillip of youth getting its first fine taste of the rigors of competition. Any young man who plays football comes to realize very soon that you can't share the goals among twenty-two sweating, fighting, prehensile cubs any more than you can share the wealth among one hundred and twenty million sweating, fighting, prehensile Americans.

It is, therefore, a healthy game; it is an object lesson in many realities.

But the sports writers puzzle me. The enigma grows greater as football rules increase. There are so many rules now that a rumor is being circulated that the recent Army-Harvard game, staged in West Point, was originally scheduled for Boston. But the Harvard captain was discovered eating green persimmons, in order to make horrific grimaces at the opposing line, and so his team was penalized 100,000 yards, which brought the game down to West Point.

To meet this deadening and multiplying body of ordinances, which soon will grow as involved as the AAA, the professional sports writers have taken to describing the game in a special sportswriter language, as complicated for laymen as Sanscrit and as high-falutin as an ex Brain Truster's alibi for why he wants more and greater powers over the tax-payer's billfold.

For example, I attended a game the other day along with a couple of regular gridiron writers for the metropolitan press. "Wow!" I exclaimed innocently to Messrs. Williams, Rice, Parker, Vidmer, et al. "That was some touchdown! They did it with one of those new-style lateral passes, didn't they?"

What did I get by way of answer? Something like this:

"Yes, Mr. Aswell. The sons of old Ebenezer Harvard have forded the Styx of the embryo generals, the nascent commanders, and eaten only Dead Sea Fruit. For the Down-East air aces from the State of the Codfish have sailed across the trenches of the defending goose-steppers, who made of the brilliant aerial attack only a Waterloo and Gethsemane—who met the gridiron Rickenbackers with the anti-aircraft guns of intercepted tosses."

Do you recognize the style? Does it make sense with the erstwhile basic idea of football, which was to cross goal-lines with the ball under arm? And when I stepped out in the final quarter for a bottle of soda pop and returned, one of the Boswells of the press box commented:

"Just after you left camp, the gangling khaki-clad heroes crossed the Hellespont into the enemy's territory, anchoring their dreadnaught below the walls of Troy and fooling the baked beans boys with a wooden horse full of triple-exchanges of the Oval."

That meant, I gathered, that the game was finished.

There is an anecdote going the rounds which purports to explain why Fordham beat Vanderbilt, a much more heavily touted team, last week. There are, it seems, a number of lads of Italian extraction on the Fordham team.

One of the Vanderbilt players called out to a colleague, after a pass had failed, "Higher, Lee, with the passes!"

But the Italian players on the other side understood him to cry, "Haile Selassie!" and won furiously at a walk.

SWAMPSCOTT, Mass.,—An invading skunk wreaked havoc with a service of the fashionable First Universalist Church here. Charles Bradstreet borrowed a tear gas gun from police and, wearing a gas mask, won in a battle of odors. The skunk, however, forced a postponement of services for one week.

RARE SHARK TO BE ACADEMY ATTRACTION

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 25.—One of the few in any collection in the world, a porbeagle shark has been presented to the Academy of Natural Sciences here. An unusually rare member of the shark family, the porbeagle is so named because of it hunts in packs like Beagle hounds. This specimen is the first ever received here.

Entertainment And Dance Ends Annual Reunion

Consistory Members And Families Gather For Program At Cathedral

DINNERS TO BE MONTHLY FEATURE

With around five hundred present, the Fifty-seventh reunion of the Valley of New Castle Consistory was brought to a close last evening at The Cathedral, when an excellent program of entertainment was presented for the members, their families, and house guests.

The conferring of degrees was ended during the afternoon, with a large number of members present for the occasion.

Following the dinner, the assembly was entertained by the Salt and Peanut Radio Revue, featuring Salt and Peanuts, Chuck Wayne, and the Four Georgia Crackers. Frank Kurtz, who with his wife, form the salt and peanuts combination, is the grandson of a former New Castle resident, Isaac Kurtz, who left New Castle a number of years ago to eventually settle in Kansas.

The succeeding hours were spent in dancing and with cards, several hundred couples enjoying the dance program in the ball room, while cards were played in the East Lodge room.

It was voted during the evening to continue the dinner dances each month during the winter season, and the entertainment committee will plan another program for next month as a result of the action taken.

Commander-in-Chief John E. White was well pleased with the interest shown by the members in the reunion, which was marked by old fashioned fraternal communion.

NEVER SAW SHOW IN ALL HER LIFE

(International News Service)

UNIONTOWN, Pa., Oct. 25.—A singular death request made by Mrs. Mary Salay has attracted wide attention in this area.

Before her death, Mrs. Salay stated simply:

"Please put in the papers in my death notice that I have never attended a show in all my life."

The woman's children explained that their mother had no particular antipathy toward "shows" but that she was always too busy rearing her family and taking care of household duties to enjoy the entertainment provided in theaters.

PLAINGROVE SCHOOL WILL PRESENT PLAY

Plaingrove high school students will present a three-act comedy, "The Unexpected Debut" in the high school auditorium, Friday evening, November 1, at 8 o'clock.

The play is full of humorous situations and is expected to attract a large crowd.

FAITHFUL TO JOB

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Pa.,—Louis Pastore of Brooklyn, serving a one-to three year term in Dauphlin county prison for pickpocketing, was ordered released by the court, but he went back to jail. "I've a job to finish before I leave," he told the court. He returned to prison to give shaves to 71 inmates. He was the prison barber during the 10 months he served.

STAMP NEWS FROM EVERYWHERE

BY JOHNRAE EARL, SEC. NEW CASTLE STAMP CLUB.

Official announcement states that the Michigan stamp design will be as follows: It will be printed horizontal with the seal of the State of Michigan in the center. At the left the national emblem with a forest and lake scene between; at the right the state flag appears with a scene depicting commerce and industry between; across the top is the phrase: "1853—Michigan Centennial —1935".

On October first the one-cent Omaha panes of six stamps were removed from the Philatelic Agency list of stamps. These panes being imperforate, there was very little spoilage, so the number sold will nearly equal the entire issue of 4,-800,000 stamps or 800,000 panes. The final figures will be given as soon as all orders are filled, postmarked before the first and the balance returned to the Bureau of Engraving and Printing for destruction.

New Castle's post office now has on sale its supply of Boulder Dam stamps. These are of the three-cent denomination and may be secured by asking for them at the stamp window. Miss Flynn states that there is a sufficient quantity on hand to last for some time yet.

National Stamp Week.

Stampic organizations about the country are endeavoring to have the week of November 4th to the 10th set aside as National Stamp Week thruout the country. Such a week is a very worthwhile one, for it will not only bring philately to those members of the public who heretofore have been "Lone Eagles" in stamp collecting. There are innumerable collectors who could be helped beyond estimation if they were brought into a stamp society. Also there is always the thought that one of these "Lone" collectors may have some stamp or stamps which would supply some missing piece of research information.

The Head of Rabah Zobeir.

Chad (or Tchad, as the French spell it) is one of the four colonies of French Equatorial Africa. Its northern portion lies in the Sahara. In the east it contains the great shallow inland Lake Chad which has given its name to the entire region. To the south are great tropical forest. Elephants, lions, tigers, gorillas and the panther shown on Chat's postage stamps are found in this region; and the rivers are infested with crocodiles and hippopotami.

Forty-odd years ago, due to an exaggerated belief in the importance of Lake Chad, three nations raced to get control of it. The French won, and succeeded in establishing their authority; but the governor was attacked and forced to flee by a half Arab, half Negro chieftain, one Rabah Zobeir. The French promptly sent another expedition to this region; but its two captains practiced such cruelties upon their own men and the natives that a third expedition of marines was sent to supplant them. The captains mutinied, fired upon the newly sent troops, and marched away to set up an independent African state of their own—a typical example of the effect of the climate of this region on the minds of white men. Within two weeks both captains were dead, murdered by their own men.

Later the French forces met and defeated Rabah Zobeir, and spiked his head on view in the French camp as a warning that the new white masters of Chad would tolerate no resistance.

League Wants United States

Will Claim All Credit If General War Is Averted Across Sea

BRITAIN SEEKS U. S. ALLIANCE

Central Press
Washington Bureau
1900 S Street
By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25—If the world escapes a general war, growing out of Italy's African campaign, the League of Nations will claim all the credit for it.

Thereupon another tremendous effort will be made to get t.e United States into the league, on the ground that Uncle Sam can't afford to stay out of so worthy an alignment. Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin of England already has broadcast an appeal to league diplomacy "to try again and see if we cannot get outsiders to join us."

Anti-leaguers in the United States forsee that such an appeal in the circumstances, will have a somewhat increased potency among Americans. They will not be shaken in their opposition to league entrance but they do recognize the necessity for strengthened resistance to it.

BRITAIN MOST EAGER.

British statesmanship most particularly desires the United States in the league.

The small European countries are intensely interested in maintenance of the league but Yankee participation in it is not so vital to them. Switzerland, Belgium, Holland and Denmark for example (not so much Sweden and Norway, since they are more isolated) naturally are in danger of being stepped on in the event of any old world conflict and wish to insure themselves against such a peril as effectively as they are able.

Latin America's republics are not greatly concerned. They are not likely to be found in any big war's fairway. Early in the league's history they inclined to regard it as a possible protection against American imperialistic policies but North America's more recent attitude toward their affairs has reassured them. They no longer are afraid of us, but regard us as rather friendly, though decidedly out of touch with their philosophy. To them the league is an academic proposition, from which some of them have dissociated themselves—as a nuisance; not so much from hostility to league principles.

John Bull, however, rates Uncle Sam as a natural ally—to pull the former's chestnuts out of the fire.

NO CONFLICT OF AMBITIONS?

Great Britain, in short, undoubtedly would be willing to scrap the whole league to induce America to line up with the British Empire.

America, practically self-contained and approximately as strong as Britain, scarcely has any overseas interests. England, incapable of supporting itself for more than a fortnight or two in case of an attack from abroad has overseas interests everywhere.

No chance of a clash! No conflict of ambitions!

BRITAIN'S ADVANTAGE

Besides a England's propaganda "takes" well in America.

I have been part of an audience listening in the lounge of the National Press club in Washington, to Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin discussing Ethiopia over the radio. If he had been in the club lounge, it couldn't have been clearer, except for a slight English accent.

Over the same radio I have heard Premier Benito Mussolini discuss the same issue. He spoke in Italian, which almost no one understood. Afterward his speech was translated haltingly into English. Of course, it lost all its fire.

Baron Pompeo Aloisi, Italy's representative at Genevt wanted to radio a message to America. British transmission stations refused to carry his message.

It was the same way at the beginning of the last World War.

England cut Germany's cable communication. Germany tried to communicate wirelessly. Its communications were so blurred by English interference that they meant nothing.

I know. I was an overseas editor who tried to decipher these messages.

BALDWIN'S ARGUMENT.

"All right," in effect says Prime Minister Baldwin, "stay out of war at the outset if you choose.

"You'll be dragged into it eventually."

That is the argument for joining the League of Nations.

Communism has taken things over wholesale from capitalist civilization, and has especially made a veritable religion of the machine which it worships as a totem.

AROUND CITY HALL

Police chronology for 24 hours ending at 3:30 p. m. October 24, three arrests on charges of drunkenness.

Ralph Cooper, secretary of the civil service board for policemen, 68 of whom took an examination Monday night, is examining answers to the questions given the candidates. It is not yet known when those who passed will receive orders to report for a physical examination.

Among the visitors to city hall yesterday were former Mayor Walter V. Tyler. He also served the city as director of finance.

Few permits for excavations have been granted recently according to permits at the city engineer's office.

Every stairway in city buildings must have a railing and every stairway step which might prove a hazard must be fixed, according to the insurance company which carries the city's insurance. This work will be done by employes of the WPA.

Knowledge enables one to put forces outside of himself into operation and reap the benefits.

American Brings Boom To Old Home

(International News Service)

BOTSANI, Rumania.,—Proof that the "rich uncle from America" has not been killed by the depression was given to this town when Jacob Moses Prufer of Brooklyn, N. Y. came to Rumania to visit his family 35 years after he emigrated to U. S.-A. as a penniless youngster.

As soon as he arrived in Botsani, a small town in the province of Moldavia, word went out that he intended to make presents to all his relatives. In less than an hour Mr. Prufer's hotel was stormed by a throng of persons of all ages who claimed to be the rich American's relatives. Since indentification of all members of his family was impossible under the circumstances, Mr. Prufer gave each a neat sum.

The town has been doing a roaring trade since.

Expulsion For Seven Students

Massachusetts School Officials Take Action In Flag Salute

(International News Service)

SAUGUS, Mass., Oct. 25—A long suffering school committee Thursday cracked down with an expulsion order on seven students who refused to salute the flag of the country which offered them free educational facilities.

The children, boys and girls ranging from nine to twelve years, are members of a religious sect which, they claimed, taught that it was wrong to pledge allegiance to the American flag, compulsory under Massachusetts state law.

Indicating they may appeal to the supreme court for reinstatement of their children, the pupils' parents notified the school board of their decision to forego the privilege of a public hearing on the issue.

LUMBER NEED IN STATE TREMENDOUS

HARRISBURG, Oct. 25.—In normal years Pennsylvania consumes close to two billion board feet of lumber annually, of which less than 16 per cent is grown within the state.

The Department of Forests and Waters has a program of land utilization under way which it hopes will increase Pennsylvania timber production materially in future years.

Skiing has been popular recently near Casablanca, Morocco.

Wedding Ritual Fight Planned

Hope To Change Wedding Ritual Of Reformed Church

(International News Service)

READING, Pa., Oct. 25—A fight to effect changes in the "archaic and obselete" wedding ritual of the Reformed church—recommended at a meeting of the Reading clasis here—will be carried to the next general synod of the denomination, Reformed clergymen declared Thursday.

Members of a committee on revision urged elimination of the words "proper continuation of mankind" from a portion of the liturgy setting forth the purposes of marriage.

"The idea of propagation should not enter the marriage service," the clergymen protested. "We are not marrying people for the sake of eugenics."

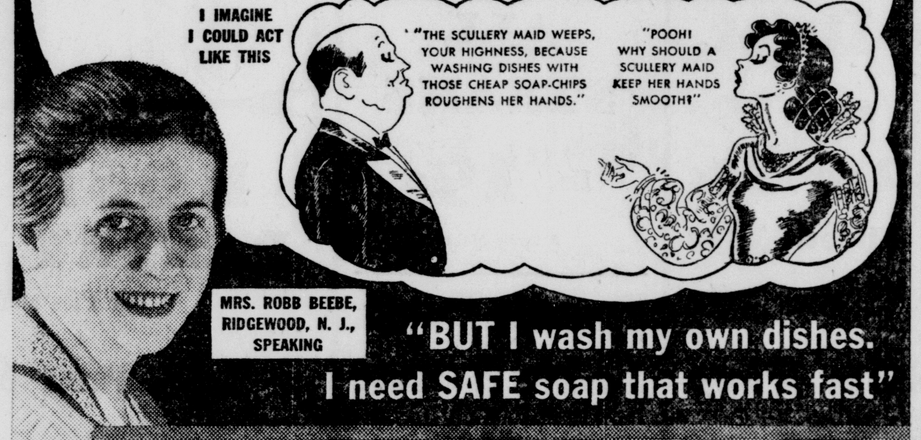

NO BLUSHING BRIDES

(International News Service)

LONDON—There are no blushing brides in London nowadays. So declares Walter J. Lickley, for 22 years register at the central marriage bureau. He said: "Nowadays the bride is generally more composed than the groom."

Rescue One Of Men Buried In Mt. Carmel Mine

One Of Two Men Buried In Coal Hole Slide Is Found Alive

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

MT. CARMEL, Pa., Oct. 25.—After working feverishly all night, rescuers early today reached Peter Baxter, one of two men buried in an independent coal hole slide here yesterday, and found him alive.

He was rushed to Ashland State hospital where an examination showed him to be suffering minor cuts and bruises and severe shock from his experience. Doctors said he would recover.

Baxter was unable to give rescuers any indication as to where John Stankowski, the other entombed man, was when the slide let go. Stankowski has not been located by the diggers, but unrelenting efforts were continued in search for him.

Rescue workers who dug unceasingly through the night after hearing tappings on a 14-foot pipe they forced down through the debris in an effort to furnish air to the imprisoned men, reached Baxter shortly after 6 o'clock. It took another hour to extricate him.

John Stankowski, the other entombed man, had not been sighted by the diggers when Baxter was taken from the coal hole. Work was continued in an effort to find him.

Belshazzar's Feast

"Brass Tacks" On The Sunday School Lesson

The Golden Text

Proverbs 20:1—"Wine is a mocker, strong drink a brawler: and whosoever erreth thereby is not wise."

(The International Uniform Sunday School Lesson on the above topic for October 27 is Daniel 5:1-31 the Golden Text being Proverbs 20: 1, "Wine is a mocker, strong drink, a brawler and whosoever erreth thereby is not wise.")

By DR. ALVIN E. BELL

"Wild parties" never are in order but certainly Belshazzar chose the poorest night of his career to stage the one history knows as "Belshazzar's Feast." With his capital city of Babylon besieged by the armies of Cyrus the historian Xenophon says, "The whole city seemed to be given over to revelry."

The Feast of the Great

"Belshazzar the king made a great feast to a thousand of his lords and drank wine before the thousand. Belshazzar, while he tasted the wine commanded to bring the golden and and silver vessels which Nebuchadnezzar, his father, had taken out of the temple which was in Jerusalem: that the king and his lords, his wives and his concubines might drink therefrom..... They drank wine and praised the gods of gold and of silver of brass, of iron, of wood and of stone." Thus intemperance leads from one excess to greater as drunkenness adds adultery, sacrilege, blasphemy and idolotry in its train to warn even those who "can take a drink and know where to stop."

The Finger of God

"In the same hour came forth the fingers of a man's hand, and wrote over against the candlestick upon the plaster of the wall of the king's palace; and the king saw the part of the hand that wrote. Then the king's countenance was changed in him and his thoughts troubled him and the joints of his loins were loosed and his knees smote one against another." Thus defiance of God brings it fiery judgment to force scoffers to reveal their cowardly nature in critical hours. Unbelief in such crises also admits its defeat and lack of any adequate source of guidance and comfort.

The Faith of the Godly

Then a good woman, the queen-mother, whose conversion to the true God had doubtless come about at the time of the conversion of his father, Nebuchadnezzar, some thirty years before (as recounted in chapter 4), directed her impious and dissolute son to seek out God's prophet Daniel, in whom was "light and understanding and wisdom, like the wisdom of the gods."

So Belshazzar, like many another infidel scoffer, sent for the preacher when he was in trouble and when the eighty-seven year old preacher came, the king offered him rich rewards to help him out of the trouble his sin had brought upon him.

"Let thy gifts be to thyself and give thy rewards to another; nevertheless I will read the writing unto the king and make known to him the interpretation."

Then followed a fearless rebuke from the prophet that the king had not learned the lessons he should have learned from the experiences of Nebuchadnezzar, after which the cryptic letters of fire blazing on the wall, were burned into the soul of the drunken king: "MENE: God hath numbered thy kingdom and brought it to an end. TEKEL: thou are weighed in the balance and art found wanting. PERES: thy kingdom is divided and given to the Medes and Persians." Swiftly fell the predicted judgment as that very night the king was slain "and Darius, the Mede, received the kingdom."

Girl Gives Self Up As Embezzler

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 25. — Her nerves were like steel when she walked into the county warden's office and said "I have embezzled . . . from my employers, and I want to give myself up," but today pretty Helen Blaskenech, 21, was near collapse.

The former cashier of a local fruit company failed to appear at her hearing yesterday because of a physician's report that she was ill.

The auditors have not yet completed their check of the company's books to determine the exact amount the girl allegedly diverted for "good times".

Hundred Attend Endeavor Rally

Fall Rally Of Christian Endeavor Union At First Congregational Church

DINNER FOLLOWED BY FINE PROGRAM

Well on to 100 Christian Endeavorers from the various Christian Endeavor societies of Lawrence County Christian Endeavor Union assembled at the First Congregational church in attendance at the fall rally Thursday evening.

At 6:30 p. m. the women of the Willing Workers Bible class served the fellowship dinner. Rev. D. C. Schnebly, pastor counselor of the county union, delivered the invocation. The tables were prettily decorated with fall flowers, calendulas and marigolds. Leyshon Coughlin acted as toastmaster. Miss Louise Davies led the pep singing and Miss Jane Byers was the pianist.

Mrs. Rees T. Williams extended the greetings for the host church. She welcomed them "because of who you are; what you have done; what you represent".

Various county officers were presented to the dinner group. The presidents or representatives of the various societies spoke words of greeting. Among these speakers were Paul Wallace, Westfield Presbyterian; June Campbell, Central Presbyterian; Harold Workman, First Christian; Mrs. Evelyn King, Bessemer Presbyterian; Ralph Newton, Bell Memorial; Harold Glenn, Plaingrove Presbyterian; Mary Archetta, Wampum Presbyterian; Philip Guy, Mahoningtown Presbyterian; Harold Burton, Harlansburg Presbyterian; Rev. W. F. Byers, Neshannock Presbyterian; Louise Davies, First Congregational; Rev. King Kerr, Rich Hill Presbyterian; Mr. Pugh, First Presbyterian. Enon Valley and Mt. Hermon were also represented.

Immediately following the fellowship dinner was the rally service. "We Choose Christ" was the general theme. Mrs. Evelyn King conducted a very impressive devotional program on the thought, "Christ In Me". Griff Thomas led the singing, with Miss Louise Davies at the piano. Miss Hultz of Bessemer sang as a solo "If I Have Caused Anyone To Fall" with Miss Ida Mae Beale as the pianist.

Harry R. Wilson, chairman of the rally committee, presented the first guest speaker of the evening, Rev. Edwin A. Shoemaker, pastor of the Westfield Presbyterian church, who had for his subject "Christ In the Home". He said that the law of sacrifice is the deepest law of life if that sacrifice is for Christ.

Miss Theodora Pollock presented the second speaker, Rev. David King Kerr, pastor of the Rich Hill Presbyterian church, who spoke on "Christ in All the World". He declared that "if we win the one next to us and he wins the one next to him, soon Christ will be known throughout the world".

Rev. R. J. Fredericks of Calvary Presbyterian brought the closing challenge.

It was a very successful rally in that all but one society in the county union was represented at the evening meeting. Attention was drawn to the western district meeting to be held in Worthington, Armstrong county, ovember 2 and 3, and to the Junior Christian Endeavor rally to be held in the Enon Valley Presbyterian church on Sunday afternoon, November 10, at 2:30.

Dr. C. B. Wingerd of the Central Presbyterian church dismissed the meeting with benediction.

Churches represented were Mahoningtown, Wampum, Westfield, Hopewell, Neshannock, Rich Hill, Harlansburg, Central, Calvary, First, Reformed, Enon Valley, Mt. Hermon, First Congregational, First Christian and Bell Memorial.

A group of Christian Endeavor workers will have charge of the evening service at the Mt. Hermon Presbyterian church on Sunday evening at 7 o'clock, Harry R. Wilson presiding. Music will be in charge of Howard Gilmore. There will be a reading and a short talk.

produce results. They must talk to the people and talk HARD.

MR. BURTON, of Cosmopolitan Magazine, asks various highbrows and brows of middling height, to answer:

"Will world peace ever be possible?"

The answer is "Yes," but paid spies may postpone the happy day.

Among other parasites the world now supports 100,000 spies, men and women. Forty thousand have been caught and convicted in Europe during the past 15 years.

RUSSIA is a successful spy hunter, having convicted on the average one every six hours, according to "Collier's."

ADOLF HITLER has chronic trouble with his throat.

"Small tumors that grow on the vocal chords, not malignant, now come back after they have been removed."

Prof. Henrich Neumann, famous Jewish throat specialist of Vienna, requested by the German ambassador Von Papen to treat Chancellor Hitler, declines with regret.

He felt "greatly honored," but feared that if his treatment proved unsuccessful that might be "construed as connected with the fact that he is a Jew."

PROF. NEUMANN treated the Prince of Wales for throat trouble. No Jewish complication there.

The request for Prof. Neumann's services reminds you of Europe's Middle Ages, when ordinary Christians were forbidden to let Jewish doctors treat them, while others high in power kept Jewish doctors in their own employ for their own safety. Maimonides was physician to the caliph of Egypt, and kept that potentate in good health.

THE STOCK EXCHANGE, much like a passenger on his first ocean crossing, well and happy one day, sick and miserable the next, had yesterday one of its happy days.

Stocks went up; even the bankruptcy of the New Haven and Hartford Railroad, with which high finance has long played "battledore and shuttlecock," could not discourage optimists.

Some stocks rose three points. When that happens, if you have a thousand shares, and know enough to sell, you make $3,000, sometimes in three minutes, a pleasant, easy way to get rich, if only you could depend on it.

Sometimes you buy them, and they drop 30 points, or 300 points. Ask the sad ghosts of 1929.

NEW YORK contributes its customary proof that criminals believe in capital punishment. "Pretty Louie" Amberg, so-called because he was the ugliest of five Amberg brothers, is found, naked, body chopped up, partly burned, in an automobile set afire. Wire had been used to tie him up.

Criminals believe that the only cure for what they call crime is DEATH, and they may be right.

OFFICE JOBS SCARCE BUT HERE'S ANSWER

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 25—If stenographically-trained high school graduate girls are tired of waiting for an office job, they can avail themselves of training in waiting that will lead to permanent employment.

The local office of the Pennsylvania state employment service sponsors a course in dining room mechanics at the Bellefield trade school, where a "laboratory" restaurant hums three times a day with the activity of 25 bustling novices.

In a classroom, the apprentices will be taught food values and modes of modern decorum, and will find a job waiting for them at the end of the last chapter. The local office has placed 715 persons in restaurant work since its creation.

PLAN NOVEL TRIBUTE TO "OL" MAN RIVER

CHARLEROI, Pa., Oct. 25.—Preparations are already underway here for a spectacular river celebration to be held on the Monongahela next spring.

The event has been designated as a tribute to "Ol Man River," and the gigantic river parade that is planned will be staged for the past and present generation of those interested in river commerce.

While the celebration is to be held in Charleroi, other river communities are expected to join in the event, making it an all-river affair.

Annual Ingathering Is Under Way—Continues On Saturday

Canned beans and corn and tomatoes, sacks of onions and potatoes, jellies and jams and presreves, thread and cotton and cloth, all of them are making their way into the Hoyt block today, the first day of the food ingathering of the Margaret L. Henry Home.

For several weeks a committee under the direction of Charles W. Read has been soliciting contributions of food from citizens all over the city and county and today and tomorrow are set aside for the gathering of the food.

Some citizens are bringing their contributions in, others are being called for by truck and by Saturday afternoon it is hoped to have a store of foodstuffs gathered in that will go far towards filling the stomachs of the little tads who are guests in the Margaret L. Henry Home.

Any time today or tomorrow contributions can be taken or sent to the empty store room in the Hoyt block. It is hoped that the response to the appeal will be generous and thus insure an ample food supply for the coming months.

FRANKLIN, Pa., Oct. 25—Preparations of WPA to start two Franklin projects wound up in a fiasco today. One foreman assigned by Oil City headquarters, admitted he never had any experience in street or road building, and no general foreman appeared for the other job.

The one assigned to the Washington avenue paving project told City Engineer John McK. Snow he "knew nothing about paving." The city engineer refused to allow the job to start.

SENIOR HIGH SCHOOL NEWS

(Gathered and Edited by Student Reporters)

PICTURES BEING TAKEN

Everybody practice up your best smile, for they are now taking pictures for the Ne-Ca-Hi annual. On Tuesday pictures were taken of the Hi-Y, the Senatus Romanus, the Student Council and Student Representatives.

PLAY ERIE TONIGHT

Erie is the next stop for the Ne-Ca-Hi football fans. The special train, running on the P. & L. E. railroad, leaves the West Washington street freight station this afternoon at 4 o'clock, arriving in Erie about 6:45 p. m. After the game, it will leave Erie about 11 p. m.

PLAN SCHOOL RECEPTION

November 9 has been set as Good Will day between Martins Ferry and New Castle. This is the day that Martins Ferry, O., comes to New Castle to play football with the Red Hurricane team and officials of both New Castle and Martins Ferry wish to create a feeling of good will between these two cities.

New Castle officials will do everything in their power to make the visitors from Martins Ferry feel that they are welcome in New Castle.

The plan of program which is being formulated is similar to that which was used last year when Johnstown, Pa., came to New Castle. New Castle's band and student body will meet the visiting team and band at the station and escort them through the town and up to the stadium.

Various civic organizations in New Castle will also undoubtedly cooperate with the school officials in making this undertaking a success.

STUDENTS "TAKE STOCK"

Self analysis schedules were presented to all of the senior classes this week to be filled out and turned into the office.

The purpose of these blanks is to secure the rating of each student in regard to mentality, physical condition and character. The returns of these papers prove very interesting and portray what people think of themselves.

PAMPHLETS DISTRIBUTED

"Highway Hazards—Their Cause and Cure." This was the topic which was discussed in pamphlets which were distributed to students during the early part of this week.

The main purpose of these books is to get the people to understand just what causes accidents and also how to avert them. A group of questions was asked and they were similar to those which are asked of a "learner" when about to take his examination for a driver's license.

WATCH FOR ROWDINESS

Word comes from the New Castle Electric Street Railway company that rowdiness has been apparent on the Mahoningtown special which runs to the schools every morning.

The school apologized to the company and Mr. Orth issued an order which stated that if any further reports were received he would deal with the offenders.

SEE NAVAL PICTURES

On Wednesday morning the upper classmen enjoyed three reels of film supplied by the United States navy. These pictures were shown through the courtesy of Maurice L. Nixon, the local recruiting officer.

The three reels consisted of travel scenes of the navy and covered Palestine, Cape Town, Cairo and Nazareth. The adventures of the American sailors was the theme which was portrayed in the film.

The program was both amusing and educational and was greatly enjoyed by those who viewed the pictures.

CASILLO IS SPEAKER

After devotionals and a short business meeting, the meeting of the Hi-Y Monday evening was turned over to the program committee. Bob Young, secretary of the Hi-Y, introduced the speaker, Nicholas R. Casillo, a member of the high school faculty. The subject of the talk was "Venomous Reptiles of the United States". The talk was very interesting and instructive. The Hi-Y hopes that they may again have the pleasure of having Mr. Casillo speak to them.

CAFETERIA IS POPULAR

Did you know that the high school cafeteria takes care of approximately 150 students and teachers each day? It does. Students have a choice of various hot soups, salads, cake, pies, milk and sometimes a special plate lunch is served.

HOME CAMPAIGN ON

The American National Red Cross is carrying on its annual home inspection campaign, from October 28 to November 2. This campaign is being carried on through the schools. Each student is given a certificate of inspection, to be signed by his parents. This certificate contains a list of instructions to be used for preventing accidents in the home. The parents are to check the instructions found most helpful in their home. The certificate is then returned to the school by the student.

The Red Cross considers this the best method of reaching the homes.

GIRL RESERVES ARE BUSY

The Girl Reserves of the high school met on Monday evening, October 21, at the Y. W. C. A. Carolyn Micco had charge of devotionals, and pep singing was led by Phyllis Elder, accompanied by Margaret Hertzler. The president announced that the G. R. party will be held on Hallowe'en night, October 31. Miss Betty Glover delighted the group with a number of dramatizations. The girls then went to the gymnasium for rhythmics being taught by Miss Hertzler.

The G. R. Hallowe'en party will be held in the Green room of the Y. W. in cabaret style. The girls are to invite their escorts as guests. Reservations should be made in advance with Carolyn Micco, chairman of the social committee.

LUNCH SQUAD MEETS

On Tuesday morning of this week, the lunch room squad met in the cafeteria to discuss a complaint which had come from one of the lunch rooms. Inspections were made of each lunch room and inspectors named for each room. The officers elected for this squad are as follows:

Chairman—Arthur Kapas.
Vice Chairman, Virginia Ramsey.
Secretary, Nell Houston.

BANDS WILL UNITE

Professor Joseph Replogle announces that plans are being forwarded to join the Legion military band with the band of the Senior high school for an exhibition of drilling and marching during the Martins Ferry game.

These two groups were joined at the last game and the contrast of their uniforms made a rather striking appearance and it was therefore decided to again unite them for the purpose of entertaining the fans during the intermissions.

MUSICIANS WILL PLAY

Arvo Aho accompanied by Dorothy Fisher at the piano and Charles Coulter accompanied by his sister, Martha Coulter, are scheduled on the program of the P.S.E.A. sectional convention, Saturday morning.

They will render their selections from the stage of the high school auditorium to the gathering of the principal's section of the convention.

SENIOR A'S TO DANCE

Friday, November 15, will be a gala night at the Senior high school. The graduating class is sponsoring a dance on that date. The chairmen of the various committees are:

General chairman—Donna Van Horn.
Guest committee—Ruth Connors.
Ticket committee—Maurine Smith.
Refreshment committee—Elma Miles.
Door committee—Howard Updegraf.

SOPHOMORE B'S ELECT

The officers of the Sophomore B class for this year are:

President—Norabelle Wolford.
Vice President—Ernest McCandless.
Secretary—Henry Golis.
Treasurer—Jane Shaffer.
Student Council—Francis Gregor, Vera Patton.

COLLECT CLASS DUES

Miss Elizabeth Parker, class supervisor for the Senior B class, announces that the treasurer is collecting the class dues for this semester. There is a sub-treasurer appointed for each Senior B session room to collect the dues in that room. They are:

Room 101, James Barnes; Room 102, Jean Cartwright; Room 103, Geraldine Getty; Room 104, Armas Joki; Room 106, James Mastropeitro; Room 107, Anna Miscimmarra; Room 212, Martha Nell Shaffer; Room 213, Merrill Walls.

SEE PLAY IN CHAPEL

Thursday morning the lower classes enjoyed an unusual assembly program in the form of a one-act play, entitled "Three's A Crowd."

The cast was as follows:
Eddie Johnson—James Dardella.
Ellen—Dorothy Fletcher.
Madeline—Merilynne Blank.
Elmer—George Bashor.
Mr. Johnson—Crawford Lyon.

SERVE 'ECONOMY LUNCHEONS'

In the food department this week the girls have been experimenting with luncheons that can be prepared at a low cost. These lunches have been prepared for the nominal sums of seven and eight cents per person.

PITT REPORT IS GOOD

Principal F. L. Orth had as a visitor this week, Mr. Quick, registrar of the University of Pittsburgh. He came to submit the 1934 report on students in the university from our school. There were ten graduates of Ne-Ca-Hi attending the university last year, and of these ten, two were honor students.

Those making the honor roll were Mae Anna Bowser and Anne Yetta Fell, both graduates of last year.

NE-CA-HI PERSONALS

Ross Bridenbaugh returned to school on Monday morning. He has been absent for quite some time due to an injury to his leg.

Taken ill late Monday afternoon, Betty Farmer was taken to her home. She is getting along nicely it is reported.

Miss Mary Purdue attended the annual homecoming at Penn State during the past week end.

Miss Marjorie Rhodes spent the week end at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Schultz at Allegheny College, Meadville. She attended a homecoming event also. While there Miss Rhodes greatly enjoyed a play given which was entitled, "Wilder's Happy Journey from Trenton to Camden."

Mary Alice Kenndy returned to school this week after quite an extended illness.

Sam Bloise was slightly injured one evening this week during football practice.

The first team's right guard, Harvey Jokinen, is showing slight improvement in his condition.

Evelyn McMichael is confined to the Jameson Memorial Hospital for observation.

Miss Thelma Merriles substituted for Mr. Anderson the first part of this week. Mr. Anderson has now returned.

REPUBLICAN RALLY AT NEW WILMINGTON

Citizens of New Wilmington and vicinity will gather in the Community hall tonight for a Republican rally. Attorney W. Walter Braham, Republican candidate for judge, and Attorney Robert L. Wallace will be the speakers.

Of the more than 9,000,000 people in Pennsylvania, more than 6,000,000 use water both filtered and chlorinated and another 2,000,000 use water chlorinated only.

WHISPERING CAMPAIGNS

One of the most insidious things in American politics is the "whispering campaigns" that are carried on against candidates for office. Failing to find anything vulnerable in the candidacy of an opponent it is the method of the political demagogue to start whispering. Lies, half truths, twisted meanings of statements, innuendoes, suggestions of something wrong, all of them are a part of the whisperer's technique.

Such a campaign is being conducted against the Republican candidate for judge of Lawrence county Attorney W. Walter Braham, at the present time. It is being whispered around that there was something wrong with his campaign expenditures in the primary. That is a direct lie.

Every dollar spent by Mr. Braham for the nomination or spent for him was accounted for and is on file in the office of the Prothonotary and Clerk of Courts. There is this to say for that account, ALL OF IT WAS FILED. There were no backdoor contributions, no promises to pay after the primary, nothing was hidden.

Amazingly enough, one of the very elements that should tend to make a judicial candidate strong is being used against Mr. Braham by the cunning twisting of words and the employment of shrugs and quizzical looks. It is charged that he has been a successful attorney.

That is true. He has been successful because he has had a sound knowledge of the law, a capacity for hard work, and has been available to his clients at all times.

The time has come to bring out the whispering from the back alleys and the backrooms into the light of day. If the opponents of Mr. Braham have any knowledge of wrong doing by him, if they have any knowledge of the corrupt use of money in the primary why not let the world know in a manly, outspoken way.

Let's be done with this whispering. Let's be done with shyster methods of campaigning. Let's elect W. Walter Braham as judge of Lawrence county and silence those carping critics who, jealous of the fruits of hard work are attempting to blacken character and deny Lawrence county a man of learning and ability for the bench.

ROY W. HAZEN,
Chairman Lawrence County Republican Committee.

Urges Support Of Bond Issue

Chicago Man Speaks At Carnegie Auditorium On Municipal Ownership

PRESENTS CLAIMS AS TO ADVANTAGES

Meeting Conducted Under Auspices Of Electric Consumer's League

Declaring that New Castle citizens on November 5 can join other peoples of the nation who are "singing a new song of hope" by voting for a municipally-owned electric power distributing plant, Dr. Carl D. Thompson, secretary of the Public Ownership League of America, spoke before a public audience of approximately 500 persons on "Municipal Ownership, the Way Out" at Carnegie auditorium last night.

Mr. Thompson appeared under the auspices of the Electric Consumers League of New Castle. Attorney Walter S. Reynolds, the organization's president, presided.

Tells Of Muny Ownership

For nearly an hour Mr. Thompson, noted as a student of municipal ownership problems, recited the outstanding reasons for a municipal light distribution plant in any city, reviewed the Insull utility empire growth and collapse, explained the set-ups of smooth-functioning municipal utility systems throughout America and lashed at private utilities for "stock watering" and "unjustified financial practices" and then asserted that all over the land is spreading a new movement for municipally-owned, municipally-managed utility plants.

The speaker reviewed the giant power development projects of the United States government and predicted that "a higher, a nobler civilization will be the result of it all."

In several instances during the main address the audience applauded vigorously as the speaker sounded his points.

He told the audience at length what he saw as the advantages of a local plant. He said that a city, with its own plant, can borrow money more cheaply than a private utility; that a municipal plant always pays off its capital account; that a municipal plant eliminates extortionate earnings, and allows the city to fully control the rates and services.

Mayor Charles B. Mayne introduced Mr. Thompson to the audience. In his introductory, however, he digressed to ask support for the Electric Consumers league and lashed at "utility dominance" here and forces opposing the $1,500,000 bond issue. President Reynolds of the league had presented the mayor.

The meeting was taken over by Don Huffman shortly after Mr. Thompson closed his address.

Tell Of Support

Huffman called upon R. F. Horchler, Seventh Ward Civic club; Joseph Clavelli, Cosmopolitan League of New Castle, and Adolph DiGennaro, Works Progress association, to tell the audience of their "100 percent" support for the bond issue, and he referred to "letters of support in our files." He reviewed the league's growth.

Adjournment was about to be called when a New Castle plant executive called to the chairman to tell him that "I am as much interested in lower rates as any one here, but the speaker you had tonight did not convince me that New Castle should have a municipal light plant." The chairman asked the man to leave his name and address and the league would supply him with convincing information. Then the meeting was adjourned.

Leaving the platform hurriedly, Mayor Mayne walked to the local man who had spoken and engaged him in heated conversation, as scores of the audience listened. Sharp words passed before the two finally parted.

Thompson speaks in Butler tonight.

Court Decree In Banning Estate

Approximately Million Dollars Of Late Millionaire's Funds Affected

HUGE SUM IS TAKEN IN TAXES

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 25—Approximately $1,000,000 of the $2,333,664 estate which the late Carl Banning German millionaire left to friends and relatives in Germany, was disposed of in a distribution decree handed won in court here Thursday.

In his will, Banning bequeathed $30,753 to a Pittsburgh friend C. V. Witt, leaving the remainder to relatives and a hospital in Lengerich, Germany, where he was buried. The balance of the estate will be liquidated within a year.

State, federal and county taxes took $337,977 from the estate, and more is yet to be deducted from the undivided balance.

Banning, who lived a frugal, recluse existence during his life there, accumulated his millions through investments. An indictment against him for alleged unfriendliness to America during the world war was later dropped.

In the little German village of Lengerich, however he was known as "Uncle Banning." Each year at Christmas time he sent a $1,000 check to the village to be used for a children's holiday party.

FOOD DEALERS ARE BEING PROSECUTED

HARRISBURG, Oct. 25.—Forty food dealers in Pennsylvania were ordered prosecuted during September for violating pure food laws, according to the monthly report of the state bureau of foods and chemistry.

Among the products found being sold in violation of state laws were the following: Rancid butter, adulterated catsup, artifically colored cottage cheese, decomposed meat, bakery products with wrappers not marked, butter with excessive moisture, lard compound sold for lard, stale eggs for fresh eggs, milk below standard in food solids and butterfat, ice cream low in food solids and weight, and meat adulterated with cereal flour.

The prosecutions were ordered in the following counties: Allegheny, Berks, Butler, Chester, Crawford, Lawrence, Lehigh, Luzerne, Philadelphia, Montgomery and Washington.

COMPLETE WORK ON STORAGE SHEDS

HARRISBURG, Oct. 25.—Completion of three new combination storage houses and office buildings for district superintendents of the Department of Highways, was announced today by Secretary Warren VanDyke. These are the last of 18 such buildings constructed on state-owned land since 1932.

The new structures of brick, concrete and steel replace temporary buildings. They are modern in every respect and provide executive, engineering and clerical offices; carpenter and paint shops; boiler rooms; storage space and garages. Special vents and ducts carry off gases and fumes.

INSPECTORS WILL ATTEND "SCHOOL"

HARRISBURG, Oct. 25.—Every phase of the work of the Department of Labor and Industry will be studied when all inspectors come to Harrisburg for a three-day school beginning October 25.

There will be special courses in the laws governing labor of women and children, fire and panic regulations, including those governing football grandstands, the safety rules concerning theaters, as well as other topics.

One course in industrial hygiene will be directed by Dr. W. B. Fulton of Pittsburgh, head of that section.

On Court House Hill

Under the will of the late Thomas Park, of Shenango township, which has been probated at the register and recorder's office, all of decedent's property, real and personal, is left to his sister, Jennie Park Cameron. Charles W. Brown is named as executor.

Anna Yoho has filed a writ of foreign attachment at the prothonotary's office against Seely Yoho, in which the sheriff is directed to attach any money or dividends due the defendant from John Noggle, administrator in the estate of Jennie E. Noggle, and Attorney Mont L. Ailey, executor in the estate of the late Attorney Clyde V. Ailey. The amount of the claim is $2000.

Mrs. Florence McKnight is sole beneficiary under the will of her husband, the late T. J. McKnight of Hickory township. Mrs. McKnight is named as executrix.

Mrs. Carrie Fink, late of this city, left all of her property to her husband, C. Edmund Fink, who is also named as executor of the will.

Letters of administration in the estate of Margaret K. Evans, late of North Beaver township, have been issued to John G. Jones.

Only five days remain during which taxpayers can take advantage of the new law providing for abatement of interest and penalties on delinquent taxes. Under the law taxpayers must pay up the current year taxes, in order to get the benefit of the new law before November 1. The saving on 1932 delinquent taxes is 26 per cent, on 1933 taxes, 17 per cent, and on 1934 taxes, 11 per cent. There is another feature of the law which has not heretofore been emphasized. Persons who are delinquent for the years 1934 and 1935, and who elect to pay their taxes for only one of the two years, may make a large saving by paying the 1934 taxes. The last day for paying taxes to the county treasurer is Thursday, October 31. After that date the duplicates will be in the hands of the delinquent tax collector and five per cent will be added.

Mrs. S. C. Waggoner has filed a suit at the prothonotary's office against Walter W. Raub and Roy E. Raub, administrators in the estate of the late Wilson N. Raub to collect on notes given by Paul L. Raub, a son of the deceased, and endorsed during his lifetime by the deceased and also by Walter W. Raub. The original amount of the notes was $2,367.20, which with interest now amounts to $3,114.76.

Real estate brokers will be interested in a verdict returned in the Butler courts in favor of P. J. Haney, a Butler realtor for $220. Haney claimed that he had agreed with Mr. and Mrs. John Kengor, of Clinton township, Butler county, to find a purchaser for a tract of timber. The agreement, which was verbal, was made in 1932. The price asked for the timber was $2,200, upon which Haney was to get a commission. He finally found a purchaser, C. V. Ross of Butler, who was willing to give the price asked. Mrs. Kengor then refused to consent to the sale, and the deal fell through. Haney sued for his commission and recovered a verdict for the full amount.

There are now 399 residents of Lawrence county receiving old age pensions, and five other applications have been approved, which will bring the total up to 404. The Mothers' Assistance board, which administers the fund, has been informed that the department will be unable to put any more on the rolls, until funds are provided. The only chance of getting on the pension list for some time to come will be through the death or deaths of persons who are now drawing pensions. During the past year there have been eight or nine deaths of pensioners and this has meant the taking on of that many new ones. There are at present two vacancies of the board, caused by the resignations of Mrs. Walter Duff of this city and Mrs. Lenora A. Reynolds of Ellwood City. It is expected that the vacancies will be filled shortly through appointments by Governor Earle. The positions are purely honorary, there being no salaries and plenty of work.

NICE—The first public school strike in the history of France broke out here on the day of the reopening of schools. Two hundred and twenty-five boys and girls of the Nice Municipal school refused to resume work, claiming the rector of the school enforced too severe a discipline.

Couldn't Keep This Man Down Even In Prison Cell

(International News Service)

COLUMBUS, O.,—Years spent behind the grim walls of Ohio Penitentiary showed Daniel Boggs, now only 31 years of age, the way to earn an honest fortune.

Since he was released from the penal institution less than a year ago through executive clemency, Boggs has built up an enviable advertising business and now has three offices.

During his sentence in the penitentiary Boggs studied advertising and became an advertising writer to earn money to provide financial aid to his aged mother and four sisters. They depended on him before he was "taken away."

He won the admiration of advertising men here by hi aptitude for copy-writing ability and while behind the walls he built a thriving mail order business.

Upon his release he was offered a job in Cincinnati at $75 a week. He declined the offer and remained here to establish his own concern.

Boggs is blazing a glorious trail along the "come-back" path and as a doctor to ailing business firms he has proven quite successful.

PITTSBURGH MAN OUT OF HOSPITAL

The Rev. George Rivahib of Webster avenue, Pittsburgh, who was injured in an automobile crash on the corner of East Lutton street and Cunningham avenue last Saturday, has been discharged from treatment in the New Castle hospital.

Japanese Perform Engineering Feat

(International News Service)

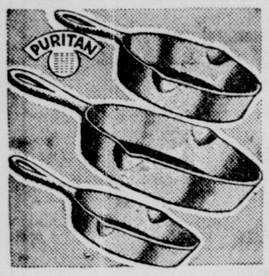

HSINKING,—An engineering feat that upsets the belief that all things in the East move slowly was performed by 2,500 coolie workmen in 3 hours and 45 minutes changed the gauge of the old Chinese Eastern Railway, 149 miles long, from 5 feet to the standard Japanese gauge of 4 feet 8 inches between Hsinking capital of Manchukuo, and Harbin.

Schedules of the stream-lined air-conditioned express trains between Dairen to Harbin were not interrupted. The actual changeover had, of course, been preceded by weeks of preparation.

The road, now unified with the South Manchuria Railway, has been completely modernized since its purchase from the Soviet government.

How often do you have your suit pressed?

You'll do it less often with a Saxon-weave Wearlong—much less often. And the reason is, it is made of a very unusual fabric that is extremely smart looking but is also extremely rugged.

The photograph on the right taken under a microscope shows the unusual "cable-twist" weave of Wearlong Worsted enormously magnified. It is this weave plus the quality of the wool used that makes the cloth wear long, hold its crease and shape, and prevents shine.

Black Widow Invasion On Way To North

Millions Peril Middle West, Discovery

(International News Service)

TUCSON, Ariz.,—With the reputation of being more dangerous than a dozen John Dillingers, millions of black widow spiders are slowly advancing northward through the middlewestern states and into Canada.

This migration was discovered by Dr. William J. Baerg of the University of Arkansas, who has traveled several thousand miles on a survey trip.

"Black widows are moving into states where they have never been known before," he said. "For instance, Kansas is usually free of them but this year they are to be found every where in the state.

"The mildness of the last two winters has cauesd this movement. Cold is the great enemy of the spider.

"The black widows can increase surprisingly fast. A female may bring 2,000 offspring into the world during her lifetime of a year, the only factor that saves mankind from being plagued with them is their own cannibalistic natures. They devour each other, a mother often eating her offspring.

Similar visitations in Denver caused houses to be abandoned, and wounding of persons by the spiders in other localities has been reported.

Credit Bureau Members Hear Good Speaker

Pittsburgh Credit Leader Speaks On Modern Credit At Dinner Meeting

FIRST SESSION OF FALL SEASON

Members of the New Castle Credit Exchange heard a splendid address on "Modern Credit" at the first meeting of the fall season, held last evening in the Y. W. C. A. The meeting was preceded by dinner at 6:30.

C. G. Kaessner, a credit manager, of Pittsburgh, was the speaker and gave a scientific analysis of modern credit and its various phases which was both interesting and instructive. Mr. Kaessner spoke in place of J. L. Finklehor, attorney for the Western Pennsylvania Credit Association, who was unable to be present last evening, but who will speak to the members some time in the future.

A. W. Bendig and Albert Fine, of the Personal Delinquent Account Service, which has charge of the collection department which is maintained for members of the Credit Exchange, spoke on the workings of their system which was recently installed here.

The meeting was presided over by John Abel, president of the Credit Exchange, and was largely attended.

ish stand that any African peace settlement must be acceptable to both the League of Nations and Ethiopia as well as to Rome, it was made clear in official British circles that peace in Ethiopia still is far from reality.

Laval Peace-Broker.

Premier Pierre Laval of France is the peace-broker in the current negotiations between Paris and Rome. Great Britain is not participating actively, it was stated authoritatively, merely standing by in the role of on-looker.

London is being kept constantly informed, however, of the soundings being conducted. The reported specified proposals for peace from Il Duce were termed in London as "feelers", but hope for peace lay in the belief these "feelers" showed Mussolini far more malleable than he has been in the past.

Meanwhile Britain was going ahead with preparations to do her share in application of League of Nations economic sanctions against Italy. It was frankly doubtful, official circles said, whether a basis for a conciliatory settlement was sufficiently advanced to justify postponement of the application date, which is expected to be early in November.

The league co-ordinating committee meets October 31 to decide upon the date.

Italians Advance.

Rome, Oct. 25.—"Peaceful penetration"—the steady Italian advance southward over a hundred-mile front through lands of the tribesmen whose chiefs hurried to Adowa to surrender—continued today to add to Italy's conquered territory in Ethiopia, despite stinging lunges by the warriors of Ras Seyum.

Popolo Di Roma's northern front correspondent today confirmed news of the repulse of Ras Seyum's western wing in a raid on the Italian right flank near Aksum.

Ras Seyum himself led the swoop with a thousand tribesmen, the paper said.

"All were repulsed with much bloodshed," otherwise "the front is quiet."

At home, golden bullets poured out of peasant socks with stirring rapidity, as Italy's $735,000,000 war loan went over the top in less than a week.

With diplomatic activity apparently at a standstill, Italy waited anxiously for Britain to withdraw some fleet units from the Mediterranean, but so far Britain has not returned Italy's gesture of taking 15,000 soldiers away from the Egyptian frontier of Libya to relieve tension.

The unit Italy is bringing back from north Africa, it was learned, is the Metaura division, which had been quietly sent off during the last month.

Dispelling uncertainty felt abroad, it was officially stated that the division will be brought back to Italy, not merely be pulled back from the frontier.

HARRISBURG, Oct. 25.— Gov. George H. Earle today filled the last position on the Polk State School board of trustees with the appointment of John L. Nesbitt, Franklin, to succeed Mrs. Ida H. Beatty.

New Oldsmobiles Now On Display

Nicholas Frasso Forecasts New Sales Records For New Models

"I am confident that 1936 will again see all records for production and sales of Oldsmobile broken." This was the enthusiastic statement today of Nicholas E. Frasso, proprietor of The Servicenter, local Oldsmobile dealer.

"The country knows Oldsmobile as 'the car that has everything'," he said, "and the new 1936 cars have everything plus. There is a definite advance in style leader styling, keeping Oldsmobile far in front in graceful streamline design. There are new advancements in mechanical features, augmenting those which last year resulted in such a tremendous demand for Oldsmobile cars.

"The 1936 cars are big, new automobiles, beautifully designed, roomy and comfortable, and possessing all those features which have made Oldsmobile famous.

"Production of the new cars in volume is under way at Lansing. The huge new factory which has been acquired for Fisher body operations, with a half million feet of floor space, is in full swing. Cars are rolling from the longer Oldsmobile assembly line at the rate of 750 per day.

Popularity of the 1935 Oldsmobiles was so great that when the factory was closed at the end of the 1935 production season there still remained on hand a large number of unfilled retail orders, Mr. Frasso pointed out. This condition is unprecedented in the industry.

The public is cordially invited to see the new 1936 Oldsmobile models on display Saturday at The Servicenter, 217-219 North Mill street, New Castle's only authorized Oldsmobile dealer.

Camels To Carry Mail In U. S. Again

Event Will Recall Experiment In Early History Of Country

(International News Service)

LOS ANGELES—Camels, the ships of the desert, once carried mail in the United States and they are going to do it again.

This time it is going to be a stunt, put on in connection with National Philatelic Week starting Nov. 4.

To give the stamp collectors something special to add to their collections, the desert animals will carry letters from historic Fort Tejon, in the Tehachapi mountains north of here, to Los Angeles.

It will turn history back to one of the strangest of the many strange pages written when the West was young. The Camel express was the brain-child of a young army officer, Lieut. Edward F. Beale. It began operations in 1856 with 14 dromedaries imported from Egypt.

The flinty and stony deserts of California and Arizona wrecked the venture. The camels, with their soft-padded feet, were accustomed to soft sand and they couldn't stand the rough terrain of the American desert.

The camels were turned loose. Those that didn't succumb to the rugged country were killed by Indians for food.

The first symptoms of ivy poisoning are followed by red, weeping rash.

France Denies Peace Report

Foreign Office Denies That Premier Mussolini Proposes Any Settlement

OFFICIAL DENIAL MADE IN PARIS

(International News Service)

PARIS, Oct. 25.—The French foreign office late Thursday formally denied a report that Premier Benito Mussolini had proposed a definite settlement of the Ethiopian controversy.

"There has not yet been any question of suggestions of this nature in the Laval conversations," the foreign office said in an official communique.

The reports said Il Duce had given Premier Pierre Laval definite suggestions for a settlement of the East African crisis, and Laval was reported to have transmitted them to Sir George Clerk, British ambassador to Paris.

Texas To Celebrate In 1936 With Fair Costing 15 Million

(International News Service)

DALLAS, Texas, —Talk of New York's World's Fair in 1939 is more than permature, considering that Texas in having one in 1936.

Construction activities are well under way for the World's Fair of 1936—the Texas Centennial Central Exposition.

Celebrating the Lone Star State's 100th birthday and a century of progress which has seen the Southwest rise from a sage brush country to an empire of oil, cotton, cattle, farming and mining, the Exposition will open in Dallas on June 6, 1936.

Not only Dallas will celebrate next year. In Houston, pageantry will portray the dramatic story of San Jacinto, where Sam Houston defeated and captured Santa Anna, Napoleon of the West. At San Antonio, a celebration will center around the Alamo, where the gallant defenders of Texas independence were annihilated. Goliad, where Fannin's troopers were massacred, Huntsville, shrine of Sam Houston, Washington on the Brazos, and other spots of historic interest will stage celebrations of the birth of the largest subdivision of the Union.

All will proceed the opening of the Centennial Exposition in this city, will usher in the first international fair ever held the Southwest.

The Dallas exposition site consists of more than 200 acres near the business center of the Southwestern metropolis. For years it has been the location of the State Fair of Texas, and demolition of a number of long-standing buildings was necessary before work could be started on the new structures that are intended to form a permanent memorial to Texas independence.

For the expenses, the state legislature appropriated $3,000,000, of which one million dollars will be expended on a permanent Texas State Building. In addition, the city of Dallas has voted $3,500,000 and the Texas Centennnal Central Exposition, Incorporated, has disposed of $2,000,000 in Exposition bonds to private firms and individuals. The city has also contributed Fair Park, valued at $4,000,000,000. The Federal Government has made itself a part in the project by approving a grant of $3,000,000.

As a background for this celebration, Texas boasts three centuries of history as a Spanish possession, a French colony and a Mexican province, before the Texans, led by Austin and Houston, wrestled their independence from Santa Anna. There stretch across the State's history 400 years of glamourous adventure, lighted by striking figures of conquistadors and cowpunchers, from the times of Coronado to the Texas Rangers of today.

Since Cabeza de Vaca landed on Galveston Island in 1531, a myriad of now legendary characters have trouped across the far reaches of the Lone Star State. Coronado, LaSalle, LaFitte Houston, Austin, Crockett, Travis and Bowie left their impressions on the land. The scenes of their exploits are as colorful as these men who made Texas history amid mountains higher than any east of the Mississippi, gloomy canyons, vast prairies, virgin forests, a palm lined gulf coast, unexplored wilderness and metropolitan cities.

Hundreds of thousands of fertile acres still untouched by the plow; the vast Texas oil fields; the cattle industry, with ranches some of which are a hundred miles square; cotton feilds which completely cover a landscape; iron and coal deposits as yet practically untouched and undeveloped, sulphur and salt mines. All these and many other basic resources of Texas, wealth, and prosperity will be pictured at the Exposition.

Jimmy Walker Leaves London For Manhattan

Will Always Be Interested In Politics, But Only As Onlooker

By H. K. REYNOLDS
International News Service Staff Correspondent

(Copyright, 1935, By International News Service)

LONDON, Oct. 25.—His European interlude ended, Jimmy Walker's heart was in New York today, and he will be there in person just as fast as the steamship Manhattan, on which he sailed from Southampton this morning, can take him.

However fast that is, it will be slow to Jimmy, for he has turned his back on those peaceful days when he lived as an English "country squire," and in full health and vigor he is ready to tackle life again in the city where he won his greatest fame.

But not as a politician.

"I shall always be interested in politics," he told me, "but only as an onlooker.

"I had 23 years of public office and active political life, which is enough for any man and enough for me."

He plans to enter the practice of civil law, and is determined upon a quiet life, in which his young and pretty wife is in full agreement.

The former Betty Compton (she has given up waves in her black hair and has it in straight bangs again) was just as thrilled as Jim over their departure, for New York is a second home to her because of her years on the stage there, and she is happy to be going back.

But not to the stage.

I asked her about that and she said: "I am not interested any more. When I was on the stage I enjoyed it, but now I have another job, and that's looking after Jim. It's the kitchen, not the footlights, that appeals to me now. Living here in the country, I have found out how much fun you can have mowing a lawn or planting a herbaceous border."

Monuments don't really glorify war. You never saw a monument to a crutch.

"SMALLEST MAN IS" THIRTY-TWO YEARS OLD

(International News Service)

KOBE.—A Manchurian farmer who claims to be the smallest man in the Orient is "celebrating" his 32nd year of grass widowhood. He is Huang Chen Yu and he is only 32 inches in height. But in addition to this, he has two other claims to distinction, for he was married at eight and divorced at 15. Huang Chen Yu is not going to marry again. President Back At White House

Completes Long Vacation Cruise And Returns Feeling Much Invigorated

CONFERS WITH SECRETARY HULL

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—The menacing situation in war clouded Europe occupied President Roosevelt's attention first on Thursday when he returned to the White House tanned and invigorated from a three week fishing cruise.

Secretary of State Hull was among the officials who met the presidential train at the station and later he lunched with Mr. Roosevelt. The two spent some time going over latest dispatches and developments arising from the Italo-Ethiopian conflict.

One decision the president must make is what manner of answer this government should send to the League of Nations, which asked the United States for any comment it cared to make on the subject of applying sanctions to Italy.

Mr. Roosevelt's extemporaneous talk at Charleston, S. C., gave strong evidence that he intends to pursue every means to keep this nation entirely free from any entanglement in the situation.

Asks U. S. To OK His Son-In-Law

(International News Service)

ROCKY FORD, Colo., Oct. 25.—Uncle Sam, through one of his many alphabetical agencies, has the task of deciding whether a local swain is fit to become the son-in-law of a Rocky Ford man.

When asked for his daughter's hand, the father answered by offering the youth building lots valued at $1,000. Final decision will rest on the prospective son-in-law's ability to procure a $4,000 loan insured by the Federal Housing Administration.

"The government's home building program is fair," the girl's father said. "The $1,000 lots I will give you furnish the necessary 20% equity. In addition, you must prove a good reputation in the community for honest business dealings and paying your obligations. If you haven't this sort of a record, I do not want you to marry my daughter."

GOLDEN DANUBE NOW

(International News Service)

VIENNA—That the blue Danube may turn out to be "golden" is hoped by the newly founded financial corporation "Aurea" which intends to extract gold from the sand and mud of the Danube. Investigations have proved, it is claimed, that 20 grammes of gold are obtainable per ton of sand, which is sufficient to make exploitation profitable.

State's Case In Kane Murder May End Late Today

Less Than Half Of State's Witnesses Heard In Janitor Murder Case

(International News Service)

SMETHPORT, Pa., Oct. 25.—With less than half of its witnesses heard, the state was not expected to rest its case against Nathaniel Molson, Negro youth accused of the slaying of William Campbell, Kane high school night janitor, until late today or possibly tomorrow.

Lengthy testimony, in addition to the unexpected cross-examination of state witnesses, prolonged the commonwealth's case against the 17-year-old former Kane school student and CCC worker.

Defense counsel resorted to cross examination in an effort to refute the state's charge that Campbell was slain by Molson during a robbery attempt at the school. Earlier, it had been announced the defense would call only the youth, his mother and his sister to testify.

It is the state's charge that Molson fatally stabbed the janitor during an altercation as the Negro youth was caught in the alleged robbery attempt last September 15.

Dr. J. Alvin Heimbach testified Campbell was weakened by loss of blood when he entered the laboratory where his purported fight with Molson was said to have taken place. Dr. Heimbach was called shortly after the body of the janitor was discovered the following morning in the school, and he later performed the autopsy.

Three other witnesses were heard, including G. W. Armacost, high school principal, and L. O. Ramer, an instructor, each of whom testified small amounts of money had been taken from their desks in the school during the week end preceding the murder of Campbell. C. W. Shattuck, Smethport attorney, told of hearing a portion of a confession Molsom was said to have made to police when he was arrested.

New Plymouths To Be Displayed

New Castle Dealers To Show 1936 Models To Public On Saturday

Roomier rubber-cushioned bodies and double-strength frames combine with new safety developments in automobile headlighting to distinguish the 1936 Plymouth models which will be displayed Saturday by the following distributors: Morgan-Burrows Motor Co., 25 North Jefferson street, J. R. Rick Motor Car Co., 468 East Washington street and The Chambers Motor Co., 825 North Croton avenue.

Bigger and more massive in appearance, the new cars are longer and fully one inch lower in overall height than previous models. Two score designs and engineering changes have been incorporated into the new models. Smart streamlines slope back from the stylish new radiator grille to accentuate the long, low contours of the body.

Rich, comfortable interiors provide four and one-half inches more passenger space lengthwise and about two inches more elbow and shoulder room. A rear compartment foot rest, built into the back of the front seat in the two deluxe four-door sedan models has the effect of adding about three inches more leg room to the already lengthened interiors.

The rigid-X girder steel frame, the "backbone" of the car has been entirely redesigned. Outside rails and cross-members have been increased in depth from five to five and one half inches. The cross member intersection, nucleus of the frame, has been made into a single unit. Tests show the new frame to be twice as rigid and resistant to twisting forces as other production frames.

Plymouth's safety steel body, as well as the frame, has been strengthened as the result of new developments in metal shaping and new welding practices. The body fits down over the frame to form one integral unit. Thus, the frame adds strength to the body and the body strengthens the frame.

For the first time, the Plymouth body is cushioned on rubber. Composition rubber pads are placed between the body and frame to insulate the body from all road noises. Body rumble is eliminated even on cobble stone pavements. There are more than 400 rubber parts, 50 pounds of rubber, in the new Plymouth, not including the rubber in the big Airwheel tires and tubes.

WATER COMPANY HEADS ASSEMBLE

The plants in the two cities were visited by those attending the meeting. Among those present were J. Lepere Matthews, superintendent of the City of New Castle Water company, and B. F. Johnson, chemist.

NEW CASTLE HIGH PLAYS AT ERIE TONIGHT

'Red Hurricane' Faces Big Test

Bridenbaugh To Start Same Team That Faced Chaney Last Week

SPECIAL TRAIN WILL CARRY FANS

HEAD Coach Phil H. Bridenbaugh, 35 members of the New Castle High "Red Hurricane" football team, Assistant Coaches William "Bill" Klee and George "Gig" Thomas, Faculty Manager Ralph H. Gardner, and Charles "Bugs" Walther, News Sports writer, entrained at the P. & L. E. station this morning bound for Erie. Tonight at 8 o'clock at the Erie Academy High stadium, the New Castle team meets Erie East High.

About 4 o'clock the football special will pull out of the East Side station carrying a crowd of fans and students of New Castle High to Erie. The train is due to arrive in Erie about 7 o'clock, one hour before game time. The stadium is about 12 blocks from the station.

Eyes On Erie

Eyes of New Castle are turned toward Erie tonight where the eleven favorites sons will battle a powerful East High team for Northwestern supremacy. The game will no doubt be one of the best of the year in the Lake City. It is New Castle's first venture into Erie.

New Castle High, fresh from a walloping handed Chaney High 47 to 0 last week was full of confidence as they entrained for the northern part of the state.

Erie East High under Coach Jim Hyde has been in the throes of despair all week, having lost to Erie Academy last week 13 to 0, Hyde scrambled his varsity men up this week and made several replacements, sending several of his regulars back to the second team.

Good Ball Carriers

The Erieoffense is built around Arrowsmith, Sienecki and Pohl. This trio will carry the burden of making progress for Erie East. Dombroski is said to be a tower of strength on the Erie East line. Captain Johnny Kaminski is a doubtful starter this week, owing to a leg injury.

Erie East has scored 82 points in five games and has been scored upon for 25 points, Erie East by their defeat at the hands of Academy High last week was knocked out of the Northern Pennsylvania conference running.

New Castle defeated Warren, Ohio, High 19 to 0 at New Castle and Erie Academy High was beaten by Warren High 12 to 6. Erie Academy topped Erie East 13 to 0. This makes New Castle two to three touchdowns better than Erie East. But, this paper figures are not very reliable.

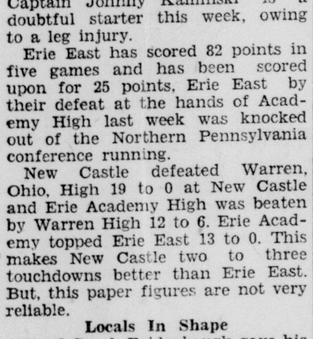

Locals In Shape

Head Coach Bridenbaugh gave his New Castle team the final "once over" yesterday afternoon at Taggart Field and pronounced them fit and ready for the gruelling battle that awaits them in the Erie stadium. Engs and Donegan will probably draw the starting jobs at the halfback posts, with Dal Mumford due to call the signals as quarterback. The fullback post will go to Domenick "Gabby" DeCaprio, the line plunging Italian. Leroy Cox looked good in the session held Thursday and will probably see a

Zelienople High Playing At Union High Field Today

Zelienople high came to New Castle today for a grid battle with Union high gridders at the Union township high school field. The game was to get under way at 3:30 o'clock.

Coach Davey Boyd has the Unionites all pepped up for this engagement. The Unions after taking the measure of Emlenton high last week, was full of confidence that the Zelienoplers would fall today. Union is after revenge for the setback suffered last year at the hands of the Butler countians.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Eddie Casey, former University of Harvard head coach, will make his debut as a professional coach when he leads the Boston Redskins into action against the Pittsburgh Pirates at Pittsburgh Sunday. Included in the Redskins lineup will be Cliff Battles of West Virginia Wesleyan, Rip Collins, former Pitt star; Ernie Pinckert, former All-American from Southern California, and Bill Sheppard, former West Maryland gridder, who is playing his first year as a professional gridder.

An aftermath in the form of fines levied by Judge K. M. Landis, commissioner of organized baseball, arrived yesterday when American League Umpire George Moriarty and four Cubs, Manager Charlie Grimm, Captain Elwood English, Bill Herman and Bill Jurges were fined for vile, unprintable language. Grimm drew his fine for violation of Moriarty's order removing him from the third game of the series. The fines totalled $200.

Danno O'Mahoney, claimant to the wrestling championship, who has notified Promoter Ray Fabiani that he would not participate in a match with Serge Kamikoff at Philadelphia tonight, has been suspended until he does meet Serge, according to Commissioner Joseph H. A challenge from France for the Harmsworth trophy, most prized of speedboat trophies, has been assured the American Power-Boat association. France, it was reported in news received at New York, already has started to construct a boat to challenge for the trophy which Gar Wood last year defended in 1933 against Hubert Scott-Paine of England. Maurice Vasseur, European driver, is expected to pilot the French challenger.

Mike Koroly of Homestead, light-weight Golden Gloves champion, has signed to fight Jimmy Devlin of Springdale in his first professional bout Monday night at Pittsburgh. Anson Green will take on Mike Bazzone in a 10-round bout and Frankie Simms will oppose Jack Trammel of Youngstown in another 10-rounder. The card will be completed by a six-round scrap between Al Troaino of Rochester, N. Y., and Ralph Gizzy of Donora.

In a statement issued at Chicago, Avery Brundage of Chicago, president of the American Olympic association and also chairman of the American Olympic committee, said that the sportsmen of America will not tolerate the use of athletics as a means of transporting old world hatreds to this country. He also said that teams representing the United States would compete in the games. He declared his views represented 70 organizations affiliated with amateur athletics of America. His remarks were in reply to opponents of the United States participating in the Olympic games to be held in Berlin next year.

Muskingum To Oppose Titans

United Presbyterian College Teams To Tangle At New Wilmington

DAD'S DAY GAME TO DRAW THRONG

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Oct. 25.—The United Presbyterians will lock horns tomorrow at Westminster when Muskingum plays the Titans in the first annual Dad's day game at New Wilmington.

All of Muskingum's games have been with Ohio teams; for the first time this year, the Muskies are crossing into Pennsylvania territory. Mt. Union, Alliance, O., took the measure of both schools, defeating Muskingum by a single touchdown and Westminster by four.

Few changes are expected in the Westminster lineup. Probably E. Wright, sophomore back from Bellevue, will start at the fullback position, with Clark and Mintz to fall back on. A last-minute argeement with Muskingum not to play freshmen, prevented Westminster from using Shoup, Bessemer speed-merchant, at one of the backfield posts.

The Titans will rely on the passing of Arrowsmith, four-year varsity quarter, and the pass-snagging ability of Bailey and Laraway, backs, and Austen and Brooks, at the ends. Bailey, a flashy back with the proper interference, gave Waynesburg several scares, and should prove a dangerous threat against Muskingum.

In spite of the Muskie's boast of a "featherweight" team, several 180 pounders will probably boost their weight above the Titan wall. The elevens are more evenly weighted in the backfield, with the advantage probably going to Westminster.

Both schools will present band maneuvers on the field between halves. The game is only a single feature of Dads' day at Westminster, with special chapel exercises and a Sphinx dance 'n the evening as separate features.

The lineup is as follows:

Westminster		Muskingum
Austen	L E	Mealy
Watt	L T	Adams
Susko	L G	Maw'ney
Jones	C	Frier
Kozar	R G	Vaun
Krulatz	R T	Noble
Brooks	R E	Cox
Arrowsmith	Q	Sherman
Bailey	L H	Patton
Laraway	R H	Turner
E. Wright	F B	Malone

Chicago Cubs Players Fined

Grimm, Jurges, Billy Herman And Woody English Draw $200 Fines

UMPIRE MORIARTY ALSO FINED $200

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Oct. 25.—The "vile and unprintable" language used by Billy Herman, second baseman, Bill Jurges, shortstop, Woody English, Cubs captain, and his own argument with Umpire George Moriarty in the third game of the world's series, has cost Charley Grimm, manager and vice president of the Cubs, just $800 today.

Fines of $200 each were imposed on the players and on Umpire Moriarty by Commissioner Landis here yesterday.

The argument began after Grimm protested a decision at second base and Moriarty ordered the manager off the field. Grimm violated the umpire's order, directing the team from a hole he had punched through the dugout door with his fist.

Grimm Will Pay

Later in the game the Cubs began to bait Moriarty, and the umpire ordered Tuck Stainback and English off the bench. The umpire complained of the abusive language used by the Cubs. His own swearing at members of the Chicago team was overheard by Landis and Ford Frick, National League president.

From his home in St. Louis Grimm declared today:

"I will be glad to remit the fines for Jurges, English and Herman. I want the money to come out of my own pocket.

"The players were doing no more than they had done all year for me. They were fighting. They had spirit."

English and Jurges, vacationing in Hot Springs, Ark., declared:

"We are delighted Charley Grimm indicated his willingness to pay our fines. That was good news. Whatever he does is O. K. with us."

Franklin High Tops Washington For 1935 Crown

Annual Junior High Battle At Taggart Stadium Ends 19 To 0

Eddie James Scores Twice, Noga Scores For East Side Eleven

Playing a ragged game in the first half and being held scoreless, the Ben Franklin Junior high football team suddenly took on new life in the third period and ran over a pair of touchdowns, and scored another one late in the fourth period to take a 19 to 0 victory over the George Washington Junior high team for the 1935 Junior High championship of the city.

In the first two periods of the game, the battle was fairly even. The only scoring threat came in the closing minutes of the first half when the Washington team had the ball on the Franklin 8 yard line. The whistle ended further ambitions of the North Hillers.

Eddie James Scores

The game changed rapidly in the third period with the Franklin Junior High team showing a better offensive attack led by Russos, Eddie James and Paul Maciarello.

The third period opened with an exchange of punts after Russos of Franklin had kicked off to Rice of Washington High. Dewberry booted one from the 18 yard line and it was downed by a Franklin man on the Washington 18 yard line. Eddie James on a fake reverse caught the Washingtons "flat-footed" and raced over from the 13 yard line for the first score of the game. Russos tried the extra-point by placement, but it was no good.

Score On Pass

Russos again kicked to Jimmie Rice of the Washingtons after the touchdown and he returned the ball 15 yards to the Washington 21 yard line. Washington fumbled and Franklin took the ball on 25 yard line. Maciarello made it first down on the Washington 15 yard line. A pass from Ryan to Eddie James over the goal was good for the second touchdown. Maciarello tried a pass for the extra-point but it was no good. Franklin 12—Washington 0. The third period ended shortly after the second touchdown.

Noga Scores

Last in the fourth period after battling in the middle of the field Maciarello rifled a pass to Eddie James and the youngster was hauled down on the Washington 4 yard line. Maciarello ran it through to the 2 yard line. Russos went to the 1 yard line and then Eddie Noga blasted it over for the third touchdown just a minute before the game ended. Russos plunged the extra-point over, making it Franklin 19—Washington 0.

Sewinski the Franklin High star was out of the lineup, having broken his wrist in the game at Shenango High last week.

Both Fine Teams

The first downs were two for the Gillaspiemen and one for Dan Carroll's team. In the matter of forward passing the Franklins tried nine passes and made good on three of them, one for a touchdown. Two of the Franklin heaves were intercepted. Washington High tried four passes and made one of them.

W. Dewberry, J. Rice, Snyder and F. Dewberry played the best game for Washington. Paul Maciarello, Eddie Noga, Eddie James, Russos, Costello and Motsko were the luminaries in the Franklin High lineup.

The summary:

Franklin 19		Washington 0

Geneva Hopes To Upset Wesleyan

West Virginians Are Undefeated To Date, Geneva Has Team In Shape

BEAVER FALLS, Pa., Oct. 25.—Will they stop Roselli's passes? That is the question flying around the Geneva College campus here and that is the question which scores of home-coming Genevans will see answered Saturday when the West Virginia Wesleyan Bobcats come to Reeves Field.

Since the Bobcats are undefeated and the Genevans have vanquished with ease all of their district opponents thus far, the clash will determine the mythical leader on small-college gridirons in this area. The Methodists opened the season against West Virginia and earned a tie and last Saturday eliminated Frank Wolf's Waynesburg Yellow Jackets from the district race.

Benefit Game For B. Parker

Arrangements are now being made by the Abrahams football team to book a grid attraction to be played for the benefit of Nelson Bat Parker, who suffered a broken collar bone recently.

So far this season the Abrahams have toppled some of the leading grid machines in the district. This afternoon the South Siders will practice at Clifton Flats. The following are asked to report: J. Hitchens, Hortney, Russell, R. Neyman, Small, Palkovitch, F. Neyman, Ferrara, Charles, Johns, Pacelli, J. Mike, M. Deep, Albert, Price, George, Blundo, Plaski, Boazzo, Brown, Abraham, Justinen, Miron, Shook, Williams, Wright and Gray. The team is coached by Fuzzy Neyman. For games call 785-J and ask for Jimmie.

RYANTOWN-ALL STARS PLAY

Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock the Ryantown football team will open the season by opposing the New Castle All Stars. A practice session will be held this afternoon at 4:30 o'clock. Sam Chill is asked to report at the Ryantown field today.

The first use of Chlorine as a chemical germicide on public water supplies in Pennsylvania was in 1909 in Scranton.

Grovers Ready For Allegheny Test Saturday

Coach Bill Amos Has Grove City College Gridders In Best Of Shape

GROVE CITY, Oct. 25.—Allegheny College sends a football team to Grove City Saturday for the first time in six years, to renew a rivalry that has burned fiercely since the first games were played in 1899. The Methodists, always a ranking gridiron attraction here, are given the homecoming day spot on the schedule, and the records of both clubs this season indicate a close game.

If an incentive is needed to point the Grovers for the game with their oldest rivals, it can be found in the record of last year's schedule, when Allegheny was the only team to defeat the crimson. The score that day was 6-0, and it lengthened the string of lean years since Grove City last won from Allegheny in 1929 by a 40-7 decision. The Grovers lost in 1930, and the 1931, by a 40-7 decision. The teams did not meet in 1932 and 1933.

Howard Wilson, fullback and only veteran ball carrier on the crimson squad, is still inactive from injuries received in the Morris-Harvy game and will not be permitted to rejoin the squad before next week at the earliest. His absence leaves the full-backing up to Al Mori, whose line-plunging is all that could be desired, but who is not Wilson's equal in punting and passing. One other change is probable, with Aiken starting at guard instead of Pearce. Four freshmen will again get the call in a starting line-up that includes only two lettermen from last year, Ashwood at tackle and White at guard.

Jack Hulme Will Stay Out Of Rain

Westminster Trainer Develops Portable "Rain Chair" For Use At Games

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Oct. 25.—Spectators attending future Westminster football games when the elements frown on the gridiron will find Jack Hulme, the versatile trainer of the Titan grid teams, safely secure from the buffets of the weather.

Hulme, veteran trainer of the Blue and White teams, has invented a chair which is designed to protect himself from the inclemency of the weather. As far as is known the chair is the first and only one in existence.

The "rain chair", as Hulme dubs his brain child, is a lawn chair so constructed that a canopy can be drawn completely over it. The canopy consists of a canvas tarpaulin which is securely fastened to the chair. In case of rain or snow the occupant merely draws the canopy over the top of the chair and thus remain dry and comfortable, yet be able to view the activities on the field.

It has been predicted by local fans that in the near future all coaches and trainers will be thus protected from the elements by this much-needed ingenious addition to gridiron equipment.

Only One Titan Aims To Coach

Arrowsmith, Quarterback On Westminster Eleven, Ambitious To Be Coach

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Oct. 25—Football coaching is the goal of only one member of the Westminster college eleven, and that one is Robert Arrowsmith, four year varsity man and quarterback from Erie.

Vocations planned by the rest of the squad present variety throughout. Watt, end, intends to go into aviation and is only a few hours short of a pilot's license; Kirby, Erie guard, and Butler, New Castle, tackle, both plan on entering the ministry, Butler as a missionary in India. Laraway, half-back, Erie, intends to enter Penn state's school of forestry after graduation from Westminster.

Harder, 250 pound Etna tackle, is a pre-medic student with an intention to study dentistry; Manse, North Braddock, end, will probably continue his work in electrical research. Krulatz, Lyndora guard, expects to become a boys' club director. Mintz, fullback; Jones, center; and Susko, tackle, expect to enter business after varsity football days are over.

Bailey, Sharon half-back, is already a tree-expert with the Davy Tree-Surgeon concern. Other members of the squad have not decided definitely on their after-college activities.

"RED HURRICANE" FACES BIG TEST

lot of action tonight in the Erie game. Tony Perrett is another boy sure to see action, as will Johnnie Cabas.

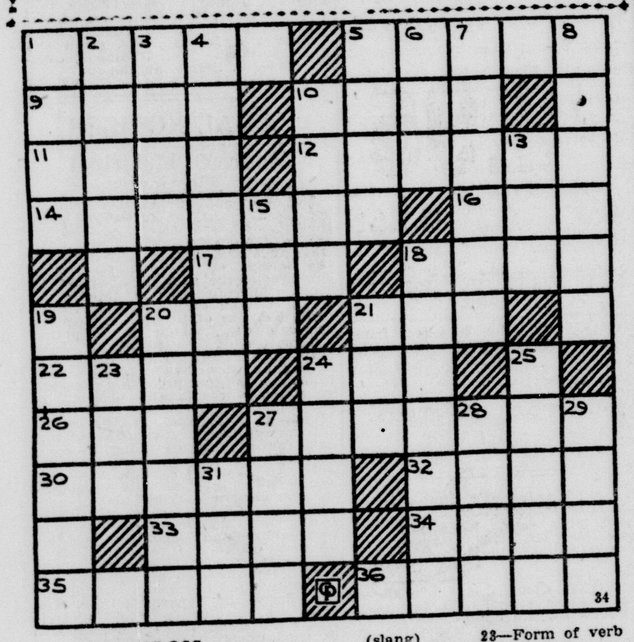

Expect Big Crowd

Many New Castle fans and students were planning to drive to Erie. The Pa Newcians will be well supported when they take the field at Erie. The New Castle High band did not accompany the team. They were not scheduled to make the trip to Erie.

The crowd at the Erie East and Erie Academy game last week was 12,000. This figure may be broken tonight as the entire Erie district will turn out to see this far-famed New Castle High "Red Hurricane" in action.

Still, if a Washington official always did the right and wise thing, about the same number of people would kick.

Business and professional men who have some special message for clients often make use of this column. Stock Market Is Firm Today

Motors Are Snapped Back; President's Optimism Firms Up Market

By LESLIE GOULD
International News Service Financial Writer.

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—The stock market firmed up today on reports of business gains in September and the president's optimism in his radio broadcast last night. Earnings reports showed further gains with railroads estimated to have been in the black last month for the first time this year.

Motors snapped back. Chrysler ran up well over a point. General Motors sold at a new high. Graham Paige was unusually active.

Coppers were in further demand. American Smelting rose over a point to a new high.

Steels were firm but price changes were unimportant. Utilities showed similar movements while the rails improved somewhat.

Farm requirements rallied after an early dip. Sears Roebuck was strong in the mail orders. Rubbers added further to yesterday's gains.

Liquors were sluggish, still weighed down by National Distillers' poor earnings report.

Electric Boat rose around a point.

Cotton was easier and grains mixed. Industrials and governments were strong in the bond market. Far eastern currencies weakened further in foreign exchanges.

ELLWOOD HIGH TO MEET TOUGH FOE

Strong Midland High Eleven To Be Attraction At Ellwood On Saturday

EVERY OFFENSIVE WEAPON TO BE USED

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 25.—Lincoln field is again expected to hold a capacity crowd Saturday afternoon when the strong Midland high team will invade this city to resume relations after a lapse of three years.

The Crucibles come here confident for their third consecutive victory over the Blue and White. In 1931 at Midland the locals were given a decisive defeat. The following year in Ellwood the locals suffered a 6-0 defeat. The visitors record is not so impressive as Ellwood's. They have won from Beaver 14-0, tied Rochester 0-0, lost to Aliquippa 20-6, lost to New Brighton 13-7, and won from East Liverpool 25-12. The Lomond men have just seemed to find themselves. Local scouts say that Midland has the most effective offensive than any opponent Ellwood has met, barring none.

Featuring a big fast charging line and a hard driving backfield Midland surprised with their convincing defeat of East Liverpool last week. A tricky quarterback, a fast halfback, and a pile-driving fullback was responsible for the victory. Midland has even good men who played the whole game. They are so weak in replacements that a halfback goes to right end on defense. Their forward wall is fast charging and effctive.

The blue and white will have to be at their best if they are to take the Crucibles in tow. It will be a severe test. Fortunately the injured players with the exception of one have fully recovered and are ready for action. Only Jime Flannagan, left end, is bothered with a "charley horse." Captain Mike Kraynak and Bill Young, stellar halfback, are fit for action. The locals have worked hard this week in preparation for the forthcoming battle. They have overlooked nothing and give their opponents every respect. Coaches "Denny" Schill and Assistant "Dutch" Croft believed they have formed a defense to stop Midland's running attack. They also developed their passing defense which in the past few games showed that it lacks nothing.

The Schillmen will shoot the works in this game. They have worked hard on intricate deceptive plays all week. They will resort to every offensive weapon in their repertoire to gain victory over Midland. Besides the matter of settling a score they wish to keep their present record intact. The locals have won five out of six games to date and have resolved to have no more markings on the red side of the ledger. Most of the players on the local eleven have played the Notre Dame system of play, which Midland uses, which should make them better able to cope with Midland's offensive, then the remainder of their opponents. This system was in use here in the past three previous years under "Ganzy" Benedict.

It is expected that the local line to start will be the same as in the past few games. Hughes and Flanagan will be at the ends, H. Young and Tammaro at the tackles, Pishioneri and Perry, guards; Kraynak center. From all indications there may be a change or two in the backfield. Funari, who has played most of the last few games, may get the starting berth at quarterback instead of Luxenberg. Also it is very probable that Biego, who has been sensational in the past two games, may start at fullback in place of Scopelite. This arrangement seems to give the locals more offensive and defensive strength. All in all, it promises to be one whale of a game.

The probable line-up:

Ellwood		Midland
Flanagan	L.E.	Standley
H. Young	L.T.	Longfellow
Pishioneri	L.G.	B. Smith
Kraynak (c)	C.	Liberatore
Perry	R.G.	Zoray
Tammaro	R.T.	C. Edminston
Hughes	R.E.	Prodonovich
Luxenberg	Q.	Alson
W. Young	L.H.	McNeil
Bognosky	R.H.	Caruso
Scopelite	F.	D. Edminston

Girl Scout Banquet Successful Event

137 Attend Joint Affair Of Girl Scouts At U. P. Church Last Evening

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 25—A decided success from every angle crowned the Girl Scout banquet in the U. P. church on Thursday evening. It was a joint affair of the Girl Scouts, Girl Scout Council, parents, and members of the Rotary and Kiwanis Clubs. One hundred and thirty-seven participated in the occasion.

An interesting program was carried out on the occasion. The feature was an address by Mrs. Arnold Replogle, deputy commissioner of Girl Scouting in Allegheny County, Pittsburgh. She talked on "Leadership." The speaker told of the founding of the Girl Scout organization by Juliet Lowe in her home town and how it spread into an international organization. Mrs. Replogle told how this effective organization develops leadership. She stressed the need of such training now.

John Kuczemarski, accomplished local violinist, delighted the audience with some seclections accompanied by Robert Stevenson. There was also a beautiful vocal solo by Miss Myrtle Keefer who was accompanied by Miss Marjorie Streeter.

The dining room of the church was beautifully decorated for the occasion with autumn flowers and leaves. A ladies' class of the church prepared and served the dinner.

Teachers Attending District Convention Of P. S. E. A. In New Castle

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 25.—Today is a holiday for the pupils in the Ellwood City school system. The superintendent, principals and teachers are attending the mid-western convention of the P. S. E. A. at New Castle. This is beginning this afternoon and two sessions on Saturday.

Ellwood has an active hand in the program. Superintendent of School Vaughn R. DeLong will be a speaker in the superintendents' meeting; High School Principal Ralph C. Shaffer will be at the principals' meeting; and George Bloom is chairman of the geography section.

District Band To Play

The convention will be entertained by the mid-western orchestra, which is composed of the cream of the crop of the various high schools of the district. It has over one hundred pieces. Members of the local band in it include Andy Shenker, Wilbur Randolph, Elizabeth Caughey, Edward Grych, Lawrence Turner, George Kaluger, Gerald Wright and Alex Exposito.

FRIENDSHIP CIRCLE CLASS HAS PARTY

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 25—Forty members and guests of the Friendship Circle class of the M. E. church met last night at the home of Mrs. Robert A. Johnson on Crescent avenue for a Hallowe'en party.

Games and stunts typical of the season were enjoyed amid a background of Hallowe'en ghosts and goblins. Entertainment was in charge of Mrs. Gilespie.

Towards the close of the evening a delightful luncheon was served by Mrs. Johnson and her committee. The class will hold a regular meeting November 4.

HAPPY HOUR CLASS

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 25—The high-light of a Hallowe'en masquerade party held last evening by members of the Happy Hour Class of the Slippery Rock Presbyterian church was the arrival of the Dionne quintipulets appropriately costumed in white gowns with pink ruffles and bonnets. Mrs. Wilbur Barnette was the instigator of this original idea.

The affair took place in the church basement which had been transformed into a perfect setting for the motley group of thirty-five strange characters.

After the identity of everyone had been ascertained the hours were passed in a merry manner with a wide variety of games and contests holding the attention of everyone.

At a late hour delicious October refreshments were served by the hostesses who were Mesdames Samuel Houk, James Purdue, Dewey Williams and W. T. Houk.

The next regular meeting of the class will take place on Thursday evening, November 7, with the place to be later determined.

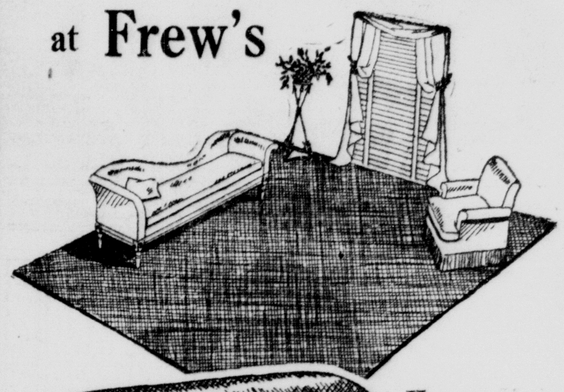

ATTEND EPWORTH RALLY

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 25—An Ellwood attendance estimated at twenty was at the Epworth League Sub-District Rally at Rochester, Pa., last night. Several members of the M. E. Epworth league and church were present. The meeting was in the form of a Hallowe'en party. The Ellwood group came within 8 points of winning the attendance cup. The next rally will be held in Ellwood City, next month.

M. AND M. CLUB

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 25.—Mrs. Rose Henderson of Fourth ward was hostess to members of the M. and M. club last evening. A general social time was enjoyed by all. Mrs. Henderson served an attractive luncheon. The club will meet again in two weeks.
